Cobb 3 Miles Short of New Speed Record

Fails to Break Eyston's Mark on Bonneville Salt Flats

Averages 342.5

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—John R. Cobb of London, the big man with the little car, made a courageous attempt to shatter the world's automobile speed record here today, but fell short by less than three miles per hour.

The wealthy Englishman, piloting a 7,000-pound shark-shaped racer, was clocked at 342.53 miles per hour on two flashing drives through the measured mile, but his bid was not enough.

Captain George Eyston's mark of 345.49 miles per hour, made here August 29, thus stood an assault which far exceeded the retired army officer's original average last year of 311.295.

Cobb, sitting in the nose of his four-foot-high "Railton," which is new to the flats, was timed officially at 343.8 on the south run and at 341.6 on the backward jaunt.

Eyston's averages for the two runs were 343.51 on the southward sprint and 347.49 on the return.

Cobb thus excelled the time of his fellow countryman on the southern drive but fell approximately six miles per hour short for the other.

Harbor Contracts Have Been Placed

Victoria and Vancouver Firms to Carry Out Rock Blasting and Dredging

Contracts for blasting away pinnacles of rock in Victoria's Inner Harbor and the dredging of the entrance to the Rithet docks in the Outer Harbor have been awarded, according to R. W. Mayhew, M.P.

The contract for the removal of the rocky pinnacles in the channel of the Inner Harbor has been placed with the Island Tug and Barge Company Ltd. of Victoria.

The B.C. Dredging Company will dredge out the silted bank off the Rithet docks in the Outer Harbor.

The amount of the two contracts has not been announced.

The work will be proceeded with immediately, Mr. Mayhew stated.

Bullet Through Uplands Window

A spent .303 rifle bullet, apparently fired from a boat, yesterday crashed through a bedroom window at the home of Dr. W. Allan Fraser on Tarn Place in the Uplands.

Oak Bay police have turned over the case to the provincial police department because the shot is presumed to have been fired from the water, which comes under provincial jurisdiction.

The bullet went through the glass of the window, pierced three folds of heavy curtain, struck the rear wall of the room and fell on the floor.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Reported missing from their home Saturday night, Norman Vickers, 13, Ivan Vickers, 16, and Phillip Prurdrakogg, 14, returned to their homes early today.

Judging Stock at Fair

Pick of Cattle of British Columbia Today Paraded at Willows Grounds

British Columbia's finest cattle paraded before experts at the Willows Exhibition Grounds this morning as judging started and scores of persons gathered to watch the handsome animals paraded before the judges.

In the buildings fruit, vegetables and flowers had all been judged and tagged.

LOCAL SOCIETY WINS

TheVictoria Horticultural Society won first prize for an exhibition of garden vegetables, donated by many members. Second in this class was the Victoria Women's Institute, and third the Esquimalt Community Club.

The Victoria Horticultural Society won first prize also for a display of outdoor grown flowers and foliage. The Women's Institute was second and the Daughters of England third.

In the fruit section Layritz Brothers took many of the prizes. C. Wooley, F. A. Doige, W. G. Bird and Mrs. D. Bayles were among the leaders in the rabbit classes.

In the cattle barns Saturday Strathmore Ruth Canary Heilow, from the C.P.R. farm at Strathmore, Alberta, gave birth to her first daughter.

Langley won the district display with a total of 1,700 points. Second was Burnaby, with 1,635 points; third, Surrey, 1,618 points and fourth Coquitlam, 1,603 points.

Victoria district was not entered.

A real old-time rodeo will feature the horse show this evening.

Perfect weather drew a record first-day attendance to the fair grounds on Saturday, officials reporting 374 more persons having paid, compared to opening day last year. A total of 4,347 persons paid admittance on Saturday.

Thousands thronged the midway all day, tried their luck at games of chance, had their ages and weights guessed, took rides in the various thrill machines and munched hot dogs, complete with onions and mustard and nibbled at large ice cream bars, with pink icing.

If the good weather continues for the remainder of the week record crowds are expected to pass through the gates of the grounds.

Wednesday will be Citizens' Day and will be featured by the livestock parade. The champions and the near-champions will be there, bedecked with their prize ribbons and cards and in the best of condition. The parade will start at 2.30.

Hines Granted Mistrial

Justice Pecora Ends Case Against New York Political Leader Over Dutch Schult's Policy Racket

NEW YORK (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora today granted a defence motion for a mistrial in the state's case against James J. Hines, Tammany district leader, on conspiracy-lottery charges in connection with the Dutch Schultz policy racket.

The sensational end to the four-week-old case came after an oral opinion by Justice Pecora covering two hours and nine minutes.

By the simple device of ordering the withdrawal of a juror, the black-robed justice thus threw out of court one of New York's greatest graft expose trials in many years.

Justice Pecora summarized the error which led him to declare a mistrial, asserting District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey had interjected one 14-word question of a witness on Saturday which was so prejudicial it was like "one drop of poison."

Fascists Stoned In Aberdeen

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP)—An angry crowd of more than 6,000 stoned a group of British Fascists attempting to speak from a sound truck here yesterday, injuring three of them.

Police rescued the Fascists. Among those injured was W. K. Chambers-Hunter, Fascist candidate for the House of Commons, treated for cuts and bruises.

Two Sudetens Shot in Clash

PRAGUE (AP)—Two Sudeten Germans were shot and injured, one seriously, in a political disturbance at Grazlitz, western Bohemia, tonight after Reichsfuehrer Hitler's address at Nuremberg.

Hitler Says Germany Determined Sudetens to be Freed From Czechs

Say War Threat Is Postponed

French Ministers Encouraged By Hitler Leaving Door Open

PARIS (AP) — An official Foreign Office spokesman, immediately after receipt of the speech of Adolf Hitler at Nuremberg today said the French government interpreted the address as "postponing danger for a while."

He declared his belief, however, that Hitler had uttered unmistakable threats which would be called into force in case negotiations failed.

The spokesman predicted "anxious hours for many weeks," but said it was encouraging the door had been left open to negotiations.

Tension Felt in London Markets

Pound at $4.80½; Gold Price Reaches Three-year High

LONDON (AP) — European tension was reflected in a further sharp rise in the dollar to $4.80½ to the pound today, supported by heavy continental buying.

Gold reached a new high since March, 1935, at 144 shillings 7½ pence ($34.76) an ounce, threepence dearer than Saturday.

Offerings of gold amonted to £1,298,000 ($6,238,577) at the time of price fixing, when the dollar was $4.80⅝.

Some reports said continental investors were selling gold and investing in the dollar in fear gold might be taken by the government in emergency.

British government war loans were nearly 1 per cent lower at 100⅜ and European bonds were down small fractions. Trans-Atlantics were around parity, but there was scarcely enough business in other directions to test prices.

CHINESE GATHER BUT NO HANGING

Police Investigate Report of Public Execution in Chinatown Yesterday

Twice yesterday city police received unusual calls which gave them concern and caused downtown areas to be specially patrolled.

At 2.55 in the afternoon a Chinese came to the station to report a lot of his fellow countrymen were gathered on Fisgard Street with the intention of hanging a man from a telephone pole.

Sergeant Arthur Bishop, Sergeant S. H. Wilkinson and Constable Edwin Sturrock went to investigate. They found a crowd of about 100 Chinese, which they dispersed, but received no complaints of threats and no signs of any assault.

Two motorcycle officers were sent to patrol the Chinatown area.

At 7.10 last night a resident of the Surrey Block phoned the station to say he had just heard an explosion apparently in one of the stores below.

With fears of a safeblowing, Detectives P. W. Richards and Henry Jarvis and Constable George L. Greenwood attended. They inspected all the stores in the vicinity and found everything in order. A constable was detailed to keep a watch on the district.

BREAD DOWN A CENT

A drop from eight and nine cents to seven and eight cents on the standard 16-ounce loaf of bread in Victoria was announced today.

Market prices on flour have decreased, but, according to information received from the National Bakers' Association in Victoria, the larger local bakeries are always approximately three months ahead on their flour supplies. They are, as a result, using the flour bought at the higher price in the bread now selling a cent lower.

The cost of wrapping bread ranges from one-half to three-quarters a cent a loaf. Slicing of the loaf also adds to the cost.

Speech Challenge to Britain and France

NUREMBERG, Germany (AP and C.P.-Havas) — Reichfuehrer Hitler in one of the greatest oratorical efforts of his life threw down the gauntlet to Great Britain and France tonight, asserting that come what may Germany is determined to liberate the Sudeten Germans.

Hitler's promise of aid to the 3,500,000 Sudetens in Czechoslovakia was unconditional.

"I assure the democracies that the fate of the Sudetens is not a matter of indifference to us," he said. "If these harassed people feel they are without rights and aid they will get both from us."

"The Almighty did not create 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans to deliver them over to a hated foreign regime," Hitler shouted at the closing of the 10th annual Nazi Party rally in a speech which the world had awaited.

"The Almighty has not created 7,000,000 Czechs to act as the guardians of these Germans."

As a last possibility of peaceful solution of the conflict in Czechoslovakia, the German leader suggested self-determination for the Sudetens, without explaining, however, what machinery should be invoked.

CHEERED BY THRONG

As Hitler drove the three miles back to his hotel after the speech the streets were jammed with enthusiastic Nazis who greeted him with ecstatic Heils.

In a week filled with emotional climaxes nothing had heretofore occurred which produced such demonstrations of patriotic fervor as those which greeted the Fuehrer's one and a third hour speech.

Hitler's hatred of the Czechs, of whom he spoke in contemptuous terms, seemed centred on the personality of President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia.

"Benes invented the lie we mobilized our troops May 21."

Thousands of his hearers shrieked "Pfui."

"A great power cannot stand for such a contemptible attack the second time," he challenged.

Aggressively, Hitler continued: "I am a National Socialist. As such I always hit back immediately."

It was evident throughout he was making a last hour attempt to persuade the French and with them the British it was not to their interest to risk the possibility of a European war over Czechoslovakia. He repeated Germany's readiness to bury the hatchet forever regarding Alsace-Lorraine.

Hitler made clear only Germany was standing by to see that the Germanic minority obtained their "right of self-determination."

NO PLEBISCITE

He ruled out the idea of a plebiscite because, he said, it "would only be conducted under brutal oppression."

The jammed congress hall cheered lustily as Hitler tore into Czechoslovakia for "mistreating and oppressing" Sudeten Germans whose demands for autonomy he supports.

He declared they were "being systematically ruined and doomed to slow extinction."

"The depriving of these human beings of all rights must come to an end," he thundered.

He told his cheering followers, "We see democracy and Bolshevism arrayed in a solid front" against Nazi Germany.

The Fuehrer, opening the speech for which the world was waiting, spoke at length of what he called "the sufferings" of Nazi adherents in Austria before the annexation.

The first portion of his pronouncement was devoted entirely to recalling the party's fight for supreme power in Germany.

Then he turned to his attack against the democracies and Bolshevism, asserting they were united against Nazism under "the slogan of liberty, equality, fraternity."

ATTACKS RUSSIA

"It is a bloody mockery of history," the Fuehrer continued, "that the democracies are allied with the most brutal dictatorship of the wrold.

"It was they which attempted to hinder Italy's action in Ethiopia."

Hammering home the point the Nazi had built Germany into a mighty nation again, Hitler turned to Czechoslovakia.

"Scorn is being heaped on us today, but thank God we are in a position to prevent any rape of Germany," he declared.

"I am now speaking about Czechoslovakia. This state was founded according to democratic principles.

SAYS MANY ABUSED

"As these democratic principles are applied, millions of people are being manhandled and suppressed. The great democracies want to convince the world that Czechoslovakia has a special political and military mission to fulfil.

"Three and a half million Germans in Czechoslovakia are being systematically ruined and doomed to slow extinction."

"The depriving of these human beings of all rights must come to an end," the Fuehrer thundered.

But again the German Chancellor held out an olive branch to France.

"Strasbourg means much, but we have surrendered it in the interests of peace to settle for once and for all the eternal strife with France," he said, referring to the cession of Alsace-Lorraine after the World War.

"On the other frontiers, too, we have made sacrifices. We have acted more than loyally."

WORDS TO BRITAIN

"I believe that the cause of European peace is not served by creating the impression that Germany is indifferent to the fate of the 3,500,000 (Sudeten Germans) in Czechoslovakia," he went on.

"Let the gentlemen in London be assured of this," he shouted.

"A plebiscite in Czechoslovakia," the Fuehrer said, "would only be conducted under brutal oppression."

Reviewing the first weeks of the crisis arising from the autonomy demands of the Sudeten Germans, Hitler denied Germany had any intention of marching into Czechoslovakia at that time, four months ago.

Assertions to the contrary he branded as "lies."

"I demand that the oppression of the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia shall cease," he told the cheering audience.

"The right of self-determination must be given to them!"

The Arabs in Palestine "may be alone and defenceless, but the Germans in Czechoslovakia are not," he said.

"There are national questions for which I am ready to take all risks and to run all dangers," he declared.

NEW FORTIFICATIONS

Hitler said he had given orders May 28 to begin immediately with hurried completion of fortifications on the western frontier which had been under construction for two years.

He disclosed that Fritz Todt, noted as Germany's builder of highways, had been placed in charge of these operations.

At present, he said, 362,000 workers, 100,000 labor service men and numerous army engineering and infantry battalions were at work on the fortifications.

Daily 8,000 freight cars transported material amounting to 100,000 tons into this region, he continued, "and I can assure you the work will be completed before winter sets in."

Delving further into the Czechoslovakia situation, the Reichsfuehrer said:

DECLARED SUPPRESSED

"The overwhelming majority of this state was forced without being consulted to obey this state. They were suppressed and their right to live taken from them.

"Among the majority of the suppressed nationalities are three and a half million Germans, nearly as many as the total population of Denmark.

"These (the Sudeten Germans) are creations of the Almighty, and He did not create them to be surrendered to foreign force.

"He did not create 7,000,000 Czechs to act as guardians of 3,500,000 Germans!"

It was at 6.58 p.m. Chancellor Hitler entered the Nazi Congress Hall. The band played the Badonvillers March, the march of the Prussian infantry. He passed down the aisle to shouts of "Heil."

At 7.10 p.m. Rudolf Hess, Chancellor Hitler's deputy in the Nazi Party, announced to the assembled audience, among whom many foreign diplomats and observers were noted, that the Fuehrer was ready to make his pronouncement. Wild applause greeted his words.

The Chancellor began: "Men and women! On September 29, 1923, there took place at Nuremberg the first Nazi congress, which was attended by the storm troops of the party.

"Since that day one could not but notice that something had occurred in the political life of the German nation. Other parties or similar groups recruited followers principally among bourgeoisie, but from that moment the National Socialist Party was recruiting among the great masses, among the sons of workers and peasants . . .

"The Marxists saw in us from the outset detested competitors. Without intellectual direction it was impossible to subsist."

AUSTRIAN MARCH

Hitler spoke of those who fought in the east march (Austria). And bitterly of the Germans who had been imprisoned and reduced to misery for many years.

"In the great history of the world," he continued, "we see a renewal of the same thing that we then suffered.

"Since the first congress at Nuremberg 15 years have passed. Today the party has taken the lead and become the representative of the German Reich. The party has achieved a miracle.

OF THE MASSES

"The National Socialist movement has become the movement of the German masses. It has concentrated the strength of the nation and saved the German people. . . .

"The enormous tasks which lie before us cannot be accomplished unless we put behind them all our strength and thorough discipline. . . .

"It is the first time in history that we have been able to raise and organize our right to action in the national community.

"It can take the most unpopular measures if they are of national interest. Individual interests are without importance.

"The Catholic centre fought National Socialism in the name of Christianity and allied itself with atheistic Communism.

"Similarly, Communism allied itself with the worst reaction in order to fight us.

"It was a spectacle profoundly repugnant.

"The same thing happens today when we see the so-called international democracies ally themselves with the Bolshevism of Moscow to fight us.

"It is asked why we speak so frequently of the democracies. We do so because we are revolted by the lack of sincerity displayed by the democracies.

CLAIMS 90 PER CENT

"This falsehood started at the moment when the democracies claimed they were popular regimes aid said we were a dictatorship. Now are there any other governments which have behind them more than 90 per cent of the people?

"This duplicity of the democracies results from their attitude toward the rest of the world.

"The democracies do not hesitate to exalt the Bolshevist form of government despite the fact that they call it a distatorship of the proletariat. They brand as a dictatorship that government which has 99 per cent of the people behind it, while they admire the democracy which rules by torture and prison.

"It is a bloody, ironical point in the history of the world to see the representative of the most bloody tyranny that ever existed ranged at the sides of the democracies. Muscovite Boleshvism is allied with the capitalist democracies.

"While the democratic party leaders cannot present themselves before their constituents without being hissed, it is declared that to assemble thousands of men in the Fascist states is a sign of tyranny.

"They speak of equality of rights and refuse to a nation of 75,000,000 the most primitive rights.

Hitler finished his speech at 8.33 p.m.

Ministers Hold Night Meeting to Decide Course

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Prime Minister Chamberlain at 9.30 tonight received key cabinet ministers and Foreign Office experts at No. 10 Downing Street to confer on Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg speech.

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare were the ministers who attended. With them were Sir Robert Vansittart, diplomatic adviser to the Foreign Office, and Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent Foreign Under-secretary.

France's Defences At New Peak

Cabinet Meets and 2,000,000 Men Under Arms as Hitler Speaks

PARIS (AP) — The French cabinet today completed plans for general mobilization in case it becomes necessary in the critical central European situation, informed sources asserted.

The ministers, who reviewed the nation's preparations in a meeting with Premier Edouard Daladier, were also said to have drawn up measures for evacuation and protection of the civil population if war should come.

An open telephone line connected the Premier's office with 10 Downing Street, London. Mr. Daladier and Prime Minister Chamberlain were said to have conversed frequently while their countries awaited Chancellor Hitler's pronouncement tonight of German foreign policy.

In Paris and throughout France crowds gathered before news bulletin boards, anxiously watching latest reports from Nuremberg, Germany, where Hitler's address to the Nazi party rally was the highlight. Many Parisians abandoned work to gather on street corners and cafe terraces.

While the ministers were meeting in the War Ministry Office, French fighting forces were keyed to their highest pitch of efficiency. An estimated 2,000,000 men, 2,000 fighting planes and 200 ships were in readiness.

(A Havas News Agency dispatch from London said the British cabinet today was offically informed France had completed preparations to go to Czechoslovakia's aid if the latter were the victim of unprovoked aggression. A communication of this effect was received from the British ambassador to France, Sir Eric Phipps, the dispatch said).

GOERING ILL AND FORCED TO REST

Hitler's Chief Aide Has Leg Ailment and Suffers From Catarrh of Throat

NUREMBERG, Germany (AP) —It was officially announced today that Field Marshal Herman Goering, chief lieutenant of Chancellor Hitler, had become ill Sunday night and would need several days "of absolute rest."

The absence of the No. 2 Nazi from this morning's military display on Zeppelin Meadow was noted and at first it was reported he was with Hitler in the hotel where the Fuehrer was preparing tonight's speech.

But the doctor's communique announced:

"Field Marshal Goering has contracted inflammation of the lymphatic glands in the right leg. In addition he has catarrh of the throat. His feverish condition demands several days of absolute rest in bed."

Goering became ill toward the end of yesterday's strenuous participation in the 10th annual rally of the Nazi Party, nearing its climax in the anxiously-awaited speech of the Fuehrer tonight.

British Cabinet Meets 2 Hours

Prime Minister and Key Men Study Hitler's Speech in Detail

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—The cabinet spent two hours reviewing the European situation today and then adjourned, clearing the stage for Chancellor Hitler's pivotal speech at Nuremberg tonight.

The fact the cabinet adjourned for the day seemed to be an indication the government felt it had taken every step advisable in advance of Der Fuehrer's pronouncement on the Czech crisis.

The cabinet session closed without a public communique, which was felt to be unnecessary in view of the government's accomplishment of impressing on Chancellor Hitler that Great Britain would fight if the integrity of France were menaced through an invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Elaborate measure brought Hitler's speech to Foreign Office experts as quickly as possible. It was understood the inner cabinet — Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, Viscount Halifax and Sir Samuel Hoare—studied it at 10 Down Street in relays, almost sentence by sentence.

DEFENCE PLANS

Official secrecy surrounds any defence plans taken by the cabinet, but it was reliably reported this phase of the European crisis had been paid particular attention during the last few days. It is believed British and French military experts are working in the closest harmony.

(The Associated Press said precautionary measures on a considerable scale were believed to have been taken already. The agency cited the concentration of warships off northern Scotland. This sturdy grey line, three miles long, stretched down Cromarty Firth from Invergordon.)

While the cabinet was in session Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to Britain, was summoned to the Foreign Office. It was believed he saw Sir Robert Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser to the government.

All members were present at the cabinet meeting except Lord Stanley, Secretary for the Dominions, and Viscount Hailsham, Lord President of the Council. Lord Stanley is in Canada, Lord Hailsham in Argentina.

IN LONDON TALKS — A Havas News Agency dispatch from London today said Jan Masaryk (above) Czech minister to Great Britain, had delivered a note to Britain's Foreign Office rejecting the idea of a plebiscite to permit the German minority in Czechoslovakia to vote on the question of annexation of Sudeten areas to Germany. A Havas dispatch from Nuremberg reported Germany had sounded out Poland and Roumania as to their probable attitude in case of war.

MARTIAL LAW FOR CZECHS POSSIBLE

But Military Control Not to be Imposed Unless Necessary

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovak government today reached a decision to invoke martial law in sections of the Sudeten German region tonight if serious disorders develop following Chancellor Hitler's Nuremberg speech.

Martial law will be imposed "only in case of extreme necessity," according to the decision reached by Premier Milan Hodza and his chief ministers.

But in government offices it was said order would be maintained at all costs.

A meeting of the government's inner council heard a report concerning disorders in the Sudeten districts last night. Meanwhile the little republic, fearing a bitter and threatening speech by Hitler, had kept troops in readiness along her border with Germany.

NO MOBILIZATION

Officials emphasized that adequate measures had been taken to resist any display of force by Germany in the dispute between Prague and the autonomy-demanding Sudeten Germans, but reiterated there had been no general mobilization.

They said no military measures such as strengthening of garrisons in the Sudeten regions were contemplated, nor was it considered necessary to have soldiers on patrol.

But the minister of war was empowered to take drastic action tonight without further consultation with other members of the government.

The government decided to rely chiefly on the civil authorities. It was hoped the police would be adequate to meet any emergency.

DEMAND PLEBISCITE

The Sudeten Germans, in a series of demonstrations in many towns and cities yesterday, chorused demands for a plebiscite on Sudeten autonomy. They also appeared to be raising an issue of "saving Czechoslovakia from communism."

Although communists hold but 45 of the 400 seats in the Czechoslovak Parliament and no cabinet positions, the Sudetens pointed to the republic's alliance with Soviet Russia as a possible evidence of Communistic influence.

"Deutschland Uber Alles" and the forbidden Horst Wessel battle song of the Nazis were sung in the German districts.

BRITISH MOURN PRINCE'S PASSING

Duke of Connaught's Son had Been Critically Ill Since September 2

LONDON (CP)—Prince Arthur of Connaught, 55-year-old son of the Duke of Connaught, died in his sleep early today after a long illness.

The former Governor-General of South Africa had been in poor health for some years and had lived quietly in London.

He had suffered from a gastric ailment for years, but it was stated it had yielded to treatment early this year and that the fatal illness was not of a gastric nature. His condition became critical last Wednesday.

The King and Queen, who are at Balmoral Castle, Scotland, were advised of his death immediately. His Majesty commanded that the court go into mourning for a fortnight, starting today.

The Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada and now 88 years of age, was advised of his son's death at his home at Bagshot Park.

The only son of the prince, the Earl of Macduff, will retain that title, but becomes the heir to two dukedoms, those of Connaught, held by his grandfather, and of Fife, held by his mother.

His Royal Highness had to cancel a visit to Egypt in January of this year because of his illness, but there was no intimation his condition was critical until September 2, when an official bulletin stated he was losing strength.

From then until last Wednesday it was announced daily there was no change in his condition. Wednesday, however, it was announced his strength was declining. It was then stated he was in no pain or distress.

HITLER SPEAKS TO 13,000 SOLDIERS

Tells Troopers and Airmen They are Best Armed Force in World

NUREMBERG, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Hitler, addressing 13,000 officers and men of the army and air force, today assured them "you have the best weapons existing today, you are getting the best training and I know you have the best character."

For the first time in eight days of rallies at the 10th annual Nazi Party Congress here, the Fuehrer stood in the reviewing stand without his chief lieutenant, Field Marshal Hermann Goering. Unknown to the great multitude, Goering was taken ill suddenly last night and removed to a nearby town for "absolute rest."

Crowds standing before his hotel merely were told by loudspeaker, "the police president wishes to announce the Field Marshal Goering at present is not at his hotel nor is he likely to return soon."

Hitler, with his address on foreign policy scheduled to conclude the congress tonight, spoke only seven minutes to the military forces. He assured them that only by their aid had the annexation of Austria been possible.

GERMAN UNITY

"No negotiations, no conferences gave us our natural right to unity," Hitley declared. "We had to take it and could take it, thanks to your existence, my soldiers!"

But the ground was prepared ideologically in advance for anschluss with Austria, he said, by the work and teachings of the Nazi party.

"During the past weeks," he told the troops, "I have had many an opportunity to testify to your worth personally. I have seen you at manoeuvres, at the target stand and on the training ground.

"I have arrived at the comforting knowledge that the nation can look satisfied upon its soldiers. For that I would like to thank you."

Goering's Absence Touches Hitler's Plans

NUREMBERG, Germany (AP)—What effect Field Marshal Hermann Goering's illness would have on Hitler's plans toward Czechoslovakia no one in official circles could foretell. During the day all questioners were referred to the address the Chancellor was to make tonight.

Official circles, however, said the whole nation was trusting implicitly in the Fuehrer and regarded Great Britain's declaration—that she could not disregard any menace to French integrity—with equanimity.

Earth Shocks Felt On California Coast

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — A moderate earthquake was felt over the Humboldt Bay area shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The temblor was reported from Ferndale to the south and towns north of here, but apparently no damage resulted.

Peace Sentiment in Japan Reported

INTERLAKEN, Switzerland (AP)—J. G. Kasai, a member of the Imperial Japanese Diet, told the closing session of the Oxford Movement's world congress here yesterday that peace in Europe may be preserved through efforts of members of the organization.

Kasai added there was a growing sentiment for peace in Japan and that he was returning home "to do my very best to reconcile the Far East."

Mrs. Jan Patijn, wife of the Netherlands Foreign Minister, said she had seen the force of "moral rearmament" change the attitude of statesmen.

Denmark's Troops Guard Border

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Denmark was reported taking precautionary measures today along her Schleswig border with Germany. King Christian postponed his departure for his summer residence at Scaw because of the situation.

JAPANESE PRESS OVERLAND DRIVE

Invaders Concentrate on Effort to Reach Peiping-Hankow Railway

SHANGHAI (AP) — Japanese troops continued today to concentrate their efforts on new overland drives toward the Peiping-Hankow Railway, which would give them a direct approach to Hankow, provisional capital of China.

Two columns were moving westward about 125 miles apart, one aiming at Uschang, 40 miles south of the Lunghai railway junction, and the other at Sinyang, 100 miles north of Hankow.

The northern column was reported to be within 50 miles of the railway, while the southern was closing in on Hwangchwan, about 75 miles east of Sinyang. The latter, advancing rapidly, was regarded as the most serious threat.

Chilean Cabinet Quits After Putsch

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chilean cabinet resigned today as an aftermath of the unsuccessful Nazi putsch of September 5.

Luis Salas Romo, Secretary of the Interior, resigned yesterday and other cabinet ministers followed him today.

ADVICE TO HITLER ON MODERATION

London Times Urges German Leader to Avoid Demagogism

LONDON (CP)—Hope Chancellor Hitler would speak today at Nuremberg "as a statesman rather than a demagogue" was expressed today by The Times (Independent), in commenting on the international situation.

"With his hazardous talent for dramatizing politics, Herr Hitler has kept for the last day of the Nuremberg conference any announcement he may choose to make on the gravest international problem that has arisen since the end of the Great War, and the world not unnaturally waits in suspense until he has spoken," The Times declared.

"At moments, fanned by the oratory of fanatics, it (Nuremberg) has clearly reached the point almost of delirium. The Fuehrer has the reputation of responding instinctively to emotions which he himself has been mainly responsible for creating, but it must still be hoped that on this transcendently important occasion he will remain sufficiently master of his own technique to speak as a statesman rather than as a demagogue."

OLD PRUSSIANISM

Of Field Marshal Goering's week-end speech, The Times commented:

"Its tone was an echo of the Prussianism which between the beginning of the century and 1918 ended by uniting almost the whole world against Germany—and the world is much more ready today to recognize and resist an act of lawlessness than it was in 1914.

"The speech was boastful and it was ill-tempered. It sneered at Great Britain. It reviled the democracies. It referred with vulgar contumely to the courteous antagonist of Germany in the present racial dispute.

"It was, in fact, the speech of a bully whose fury makes even sympathizers with the German case forget whatever there is in that case for legitimate sympathy. It gives the impression that Germany has both a bad case and a bad conscience . . .

"Such remarks can only obscure and damage the German cause and increase the suspicions already so widely entertained that the Nazi government has designs which go far beyond the removal of the Sudeten grievances."

COMING FROM BERLIN

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. C. MacGillivray, Canadian Government trade commissioner in Berlin, is due in Vancouver from Ottawa Tuesday and will remain on the coast until September 21 interviewing exporters and importers. He will make his headquarters at the offices of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

WARNING BY EDEN ON CZECH CRISIS

Former Foreign Secretary Backs Government on Fear of Wide Conflict

LONDON (CP) — Anthony Eden, former Foreign Secretary who broke with the government over foreign policy last February, supported the government today by warning Germany not to seek a violent solution to the Czechoslovak crisis.

In a letter to the Times, London, he said it "is a dangerous illusion to assume that once conflict has broken out in central Europe it could be localized."

Writing of the difficulty confronting Prime Minister Chamberlain in trying to make clear to Chancellor Hitler what would happen in Great Britain if Germany should attack Czechoslovakia, he said: "It would be the gravest of all tragedies if, from a misunderstanding of the mind of the British people, the world were once again to be plunged into conflict.

"We have often been told the war of 1914 would never have come about had the attitude of this country been clearly understood in time.

"Whatever we think of this statement, it is the duty of each one of us, press and public as well as the government, to take every step in our power to prevent such a repetition of tragedy.

CHAMBERLAIN GRANDSON

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Chamberlain became a grandfather for the second time today with the birth of a daughter to Mrs. Stephen Lloyd of Birmingham, the Premier's daughter. A son was born to Mrs. Lloyd in June, 1936.

FEW NEUTRAL IF WAR COMES

W. J. Gordon, New Zealand, Warns Nations in Address to League Assembly

GENEVA (CP)—William J. Jordan of New Zealand opened the 19th session of the League of Nations Assembly today with a warning that "even those countries that may appear to be most remote" may not be neutral if war breaks out.

The warning of the New Zealand delegate, president of the League Council, came in the midst of the Czechoslovak-German crisis.

Before the Assembly met, the League's sanctions dispute was brought to an end when the Scandinavian countries, the Netherlands and Belgium decided against attempting to alter, materially the League's punitive machinery.

"We hope that peace will be preserved," Mr. Jordan said. "We know that if peace is violated it will not be possible for any who violate it to count on the neutrality of even those countries that may appear to be most remote. . . ."

ALL INVOLVED

"From this tribunal I state in the most solemn manner that the events transpiring in Europe are gravely preoccupying and will continue to preoccupy not only the countries directly concerned but all countries, big and small, of the entire world."

It was announced there were 46 duly accredited delegations. No Ethiopian delegation was present and no one raised any question about it.

The Scandinavian countries, the Netherlands and Belgium decided they would be satisfied with a series of declarations that each member of the League was free to decide whether it would join in punitive measures against an aggressor.

HOUSE SHORTAGE

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton now has one of the most acute housing "famines" in its history, S. T. Lawrie, president of the Edmonton Real Estate Association, said in an interview today.

"The shortage undoubtedly is the worst since the abnormal boom period of 1912," he stated.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Prince Arthur Here in 1906

Death of Duke of Connaught's Son Recalls Visits to Victoria

As arrangements were made in London today for the funeral of the late Prince Arthur of Connaught, it was recalled that while his health forced him to live in retirement in the recent years, and he was little in the forefront of public affairs, as a young man he had ranged the world on state missions for his uncle, King Edward VII, and later for his cousin, King George V.

Three of these missions brought him to Canada, with whose history his family always will be associated, his father due to his term as Governor-General during the opening years of the Great War, and his sister, Lady Patricia Ramsay, who gave her name to the famous Princess Pats—The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Rumor followed the young Prince Arthur for years. Three times it was reported European countries planned to offer him a crown. The first was Serbia before the Great War. Then Greece, and finally Jugoslavia, as Serbia now is known. All proved to be without foundation.

His engagement to daughters of royal and noble houses was rumored and denied in rapid succession, until in 1913 he married his second cousin, the Duchess of Fife, grand-daughter of Edward VII.

VISITS TO CANADA

Prince Arthur, born in 1883, had his first associations with Canada—which later became more intimate when he served for 18 months on the general staff of the Canadian Corps during the war in 1906. Then, as a young man of 23, he was sent to Japan by the King to invest Empire with the Order of the Garter. He returned by way of British Columbia and was entertained at Victoria by Lieutenant-Governor Lotbiniere.

In 1908 he attended the celebration at Quebec of the founding of the ancient capital of Canada in 1608.

Prince Arthur was guest at Government House, Ottawa, in 1917 during the regime of the Duke of Devonshire while passing through Canada en route to Tokio to present the Emperor with a field marshal's baton. Between these visits he had gone to Japan in 1912 to attend the funeral of one emperor and invest his successor with the Order of the Garter.

His public service was crowned when he served a four-year term as Governor-General of South Africa from 1920 to 1923.

Prince Arthur's only child, the Earl of Macduff, was born in 1914. He will eventually inherit the Dukedom of Connaught, but will rank with the nonroyal dukes.

ON MANY MISSIONS

In his younger days Prince Arthur attended almost all European state occasions in Europe as a representative of the King. Among them were weddings, funerals and christenings in the royal families of Italy, Imperial Germany, Spain and the various Balkan countries.

His first official visit to South Africa was in 1910, when he represented the King at the inauguration of the Union Parliament. Rumor had him at various times before the war as about to become Viceroy of India, his father's successor as Governor-General of Canada, or the first Viceroy to be appointed under Irish Home Rule. But it was to South Africa he finally went as the King's representative.

Prince Arthur was personal A.D.C. to four kings: Edward VII, George V, Edward VIII and George VI. He was one of the four counsellors of state during the absence of King George V in India in 1911-12.

One of Prince Arthur's public interests was the Middlesex Hospital, of which he was chairman. He was High Steward of reading since 1935.

Fond of motoring, he always believed that ignorance and inexperience were the causes of road accidents. "It is not the pace that kills," he once said, "but bad driving on the one side and negligence and inadvertence on the other."

Pageant Honors Early Explorer

Arrival of La Verendrye at Red River Forks Is Commemorated

ST. BONIFACE, Man. (CP)—Some 25,000 persons lined the banks of the Red River Saturday and witnessed a colorful water pageant commemorating the arrival of Pierre de La Verendrye, French explorer and fur trader, at the forks of the Red and Assinboine rivers 200 years ago.

Six large war canoes, manned by gaily-painted paddlers, led a long processions that included motor launches carrying officials of the nine-day celebration.

Climax of the day's activities was unveiling of the monument sculptured by Emile Brunet of Montreal by Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Tupper of Manitoba. The monument, erected to perpetuate the memory of La Verendrye, stands in Tache Park here.

Three figures mark the monument. La Verendrye stands to the left beside a priest and an Indian kneels in the foreground.

Speakers at a banquet Saturday praised the close relationship of the French and Canadian people in this country. Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Dominion Minister of Public Works, said that when he returned to Ottawa he would be happy to say he had seen here "an example of the greatest co-operation between the two great races, and in fact all races that make up Canada."

SCHOOL BURNED AT SHOREACRES

Incendiarists Blamed For Destruction of Building 14 Miles From Nelson

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A school at Shoreacres, 14 miles south of here, was burned early Sunday, and British Columbia police said incendiarists were responsible. The structure, used by English-speaking and Doukhobor children, was valued at $4,500.

Sergeant J. W. Hooker said incendiary materials had been thrown into the building through a broken rear window.

Police said the blaze apparently started about 1 a.m.

Five Calgarians In Motor Car Crash

CALGARY (CP)—Five young Calgarians and an Ontario visitor had a narrow escape from death Saturday night when their car plunged through a heavy guard rail on the highway seven miles east of Banff and hurtled end over end before it crashed against a tree halfway down a 100-foot slope.

Three girls in the party suffered fractured bones or shock. Two young men were badly shaken up. The car was totally wrecked.

BEATTY FORESEES GAINS IN NORTH

Development Will Go Beyond Alberta, Says C.P.R. Head in Address in Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP) — Rapid development of the north was prophesied by Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at a luncheon meeting of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club here today.

"We know that if any country in the world seems to offer opportunities for development, it is northern Alberta and the north even beyond that," said Sir Edward, declaring the mineral wealth of the north was enormous and had scarcely been touched.

"It is my belief that when we emerge, as we are rapidly doing, from the period of doubt and hesitation which always succeeds a great economic crisis, enterprise and capital and labor will enter the north to develop, even more rapidly than has been the case, the great resources of that new empire," Sir Edward said.

RAILWAY PROBLEM

He expressed the hope a sound national policy would be adopted with regard to transportation. "We have adopted unsound policies," he said. "We have provided surplus facilities of transportation in many parts of the country. We have followed what I believe to be unsound policies, not only in connection with railways, but in dealing with our waterways and highways."

Referring to settlement questions, Sir Edward said he was not an advocate of unlimited immigration. One of the urgent problems before the country was to stimulate the occupation and development of remaining agricultural lands. He believed there should be an increased effort "to attract to Canada those settlers who by type, by experience and by possession of a reasonable amount of capital are equipped to add to the total of our national production."

Chest Gives Help To Sunshine Inn

Alderman Captain B. J. Gadsden, manager of the Sunshine Inn, writing to the Community Chest of Greater Victoria, says in part:

"My books in connection with the operation of Sunshine Inn show that there have been 17,984 meals of nourishing food given to applicants at the Inn free, since January 1, 1938, when we first came into receipt of assistance from the Community Chest to July 31.

"I have no hesitation in assuring you that this work has been most worthy and your financial assistance has been responsible for providing the means to insure its operation. In addition, it has been a very great personal relief for me to feel the heavy load of responsibility that was giving anxiety as to the future operation of the endeavor, was lifted through the Community Chest's help."

Peat Plant Destroyed

Another Fast Peat Company plant was destroyed in the same district two weeks ago.

HEPBURN OPPOSES ST. LAWRENCE PLAN

Premier Says Ontario Has Provided for Power for Many Years to Come

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Ontario has provision now for the power requirements of many years to come, Premier Mitchell Hepburn said Saturday night at the 25th anniversary dinner of the Ontario Paper Company.

"Sooner or later the purchasing power of the European countries will be exhausted and we shall have an industrial depression in this country," he predicted.

As far as the St. Lawrence Waterways development was concerned, the Premier said the cost of reconstructing all the piers and docks on the Great Lakes and their maintenance would be beyond the capacity of 11,000,000 people to pay. He foresaw future transportation development by trucks on superhighways, not by canals.

FIRE ATTEMPT INVESTIGATED

Blaze Near Distillates in Labor Building in Longview, Washington

LONGVIEW, Wash (AP) — A blaze which threatened to ignite dynamite fuses connected to 46 gallons of petroleum distillates placed on three floors of labor council headquarters and the Double-O Tavern here was extinguished by firemen today.

Fire Chief H. H. Clarke said the blaze had been caused by an explosion of two jugs of the highly volatile fluid, set off by a dynamite cap and fuse.

"If fuses on other jugs in the tavern and in the basement of the building had been touched off the explosion and fire would have wrecked the structure and adjoining buildings," Chief Clarke declared.

6 Die in Blaze Of Quebec Hotel

Structure at Rimouski Razed By Early Sunday Morning Fire

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP) — Six persons, including a husband and wife and daughter, perished yesterday as flames raced through the Hotel des Vagues after a gay early-morning dance and reduced the year-old structure to a mass of charred wreckage.

Trapped, three members of Jean Roy's family and their little grandnephew burned to death as the three-story structure at Rimouski wharf was turned into a pyre. Two other men were killed as they leaped from upper windows.

The dead: Jean Roy, 64; Mrs. Jean Roy, 67; Alfreda Roy, 40, their daughter, and 12-year-old Mathieu Roy, their grandnephew, all from Notre Dame du Lac, Que.; Andia Ripka, 33, Saint John, N.B., and a man named McNeil from Sydney, N.S. McNeil was about 37 years old.

The four Roys, caught in their beds or in corridors, died without getting out of the building. The two men from the Maritimes died of injuries suffered in jumping for safety as the flames cut off their escape through the hotel.

ALL WERE ASLEEP

The fire, its cause unknown, flared out just an hour after a dance had broken up at 3 o'clock. All 17 persons in the hotel, most of whom had taken part in the dancing, were asleep.

When firemen arrived, the conflagration was beyond control. Running up ladders to the upper floors, they managed to bring out several of the trapped guests.

Elisee Roy, owner of the hotel and son of Jean Roy, ran about corridors awakening guests and was cut by smashed glass before he escaped. He awoke young Mathieu, but the boy strayed away as he ran from door to door.

All the bodies were found after the embers had cooled off. They were taken to the morgue and Dr. Adrien Gagne, district coroner, ordered an inquest for today.

A pine tree that started life in an overcrowded grove grew three times as fast after the land was thinned, as proved by its tree ring record.

For the man with young children, heavy responsibilities and an income scarcely sufficient to meet the many demands upon it, an Imperial Life policy will provide the family protection that will mean peace of mind to him as the breadwinner.

It will insure the necessities of life for his loved ones should anything happen to him. It will also provide a cash fund or income for his own retirement years.

Such a policy provides a savings plan that works, yet calls for deposits much smaller, probably, than you think.

"FINANCIAL SECURITY THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE," by Paul Speicher, an international authority, is an interesting book which should be read by everyone who plans to provide financial security for himself and family. Your local Imperial Life representative will make a copy available to you without cost.

What Was Behind It?

WHEN THE TIMES (LONDON) LAST week suggested that Czechoslovakia might cede that part of its territory occupied by the Sudeten Germans to the Reich, to prevent war, it gave Reichsfuehrer Hitler and his Nazi celebrants in Nuremberg more encouragement to make greater demands on the war-born republic than most people realize. Small wonder that the British Government immediately issued a statement denying responsibility—after a prompt complaint by the Czechoslovakian minister in London—for such an outrageous proposal. Nor was it at all surprising that in a special broadcast from London yesterday Sir Malcolm Robertson, who retired from the British diplomatic service in 1930 after a long and distinguished career, referred to the incident in dignified terms, but terms in which there was no mistaking his estimate of the dangerous implications of The Times editorial utterance.

It may be expected that the last has not been heard of the great London newspaper's suggested "carving" of a sovereign state, for the maintenance of whose territorial and political integrity Great Britain is as definitely pledged on moral grounds as if she had subscribed to a treaty guaranteeing armed assistance in case of Czechoslovakia's deliberate despoilation by another nation. It is not necessary to emphasize, of course, that The Times is the present government's official journalistic mouthpiece. It is owned by "the Astors" and its independence is guaranteed, for as long as it shall continue to publish, by a body of trustees whose authority, by the way, must be obtained to validate any future transfer or ownership. A considered judgment of its authority is that it "excels in every department, mainly by employing experts in particular subjects. It is the only newspaper whose law reports are recognized by the courts as authentic, these reports being done day by day by skilled barrister reporters," that it "specializes in its presentation of foreign affairs and has maintained for nearly a century in the chief capitals of the world an able staff of foreign correspondents. . . ."

Well and good. Among its most distinguished foreign correspondents and editors —until a few years ago—was Mr. Wickham Steed. It is still most efficiently served in the wide international realm. But the question persists: What was behind last week's proposal with regard to Czechoslovakia's fate which obviously stiffened the Hitler-Goering-Goebbels triumvirate at one of the most crucial periods in the world's history since the end of the Great War? Was it only a ruse, as suggested in some quarters, to entice the Nazi oligarchy further out into the open? Or what was it? The alleged activities of the Cliveden, or pro-Nazi, "set" are still linked, among others, rightly or wrongly, with "the Astors."

Not Good Taste

IT WOULD APPEAR FROM HIS ADdress to the Victoria Conservative Association the other night that Mr. Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., intends to make much of his bid for leadership of his party in this province by trying to frighten British Columbia with the bogeyman he calls "Yankeeland." He says "we are going to be sold out to Yankeeland," that "we've been pandering to the United States too long," and that we should "let Yankeeland alone."

Mr. Anscomb's excursion into the controversy of the Ottawa Pacts and allied matters strikes a familiar but rather hollow note. But there is no reason why his lack of constructive argument should encourage him to an indulgence in somewhat dubious manners in his references to our neighbors on the south. Perhaps at no time in the history of the British Empire has its association with the United States been as cordial as it is in these present grave and trying times. The two English-speaking national capitals on this continent are in hourly contact with Downing Street. Anglo-Saxondom, of course, has a common cause which is unaffected by the outpourings of the unimaginative partizan; but it would be none the less more in keeping with the dignity and broader outlook of the new leader of the National Conservative Party of Canada were his disciples in the provincial field to exchange the purely parochial for the national and international point of view which the trend of events would seem to warrant.

From the local standpoint, however, the words of Mr. Anscomb may be considered. We have in mind the business of Victoria, the island, and the rest of the province in its relationship to the thousands of visitors who have come to British Columbia from "Yankeeland" during the last few months. Do the intelligent clerks in our stores give the prospective customer from "Yankeeland" the cold shoulder as soon as he approaches the counter? Not likely. But Mr. Anscomb would "let Yankeeland alone." Yet we seem to recall that it was the same Mr. Anscomb who, when President of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau a few years ago, went down to "Yankeeland" to cajole our neighbors to come to Vancouver Island—and, of course, bring their dollars with them.

What Is Germany's Limit?

IT HAS BEEN MORE OR LESS PLEASant to reflect that in the last analysis Germany's economic condition would discourage her against the "overt act" in Czechoslovakia. The impression has persisted that the cumulative effects of disguised inflation, excessive taxation, arbitrary control of raw material supplies, and dislocation consequent on the chronic overstimulation of industries producing capital equipment mainly for military purposes, would curb to some extent, at any rate, the aspirations of the hot-head elements.

The point now has been raised, moreover, as to whether Germany can maintain a managed economy on her present lines without stifling initiative and creative thought when the momentum that has been inherited from a freer past has run down. Her leaders are aware of the peril of bureaucratization, but it is one that it is easier to diagnose than to avoid. One commentator puts it this way:

"It may be said that at the present time there are no signs of a pending inflation or breakdown of the economic system, nor is the total volume of indebtedness excessive either in relation to the size of the national income or to its level in other countries. In common with all states, Germany has large economic problems to face in the future, but it would be a serious error to rate low her strength, whether in labor, resources or intelligence."

No matter how we may speculate on the seriousness of Germany's domestic conditions—the moods of her people and her internal well-being generally—it will have to be admitted that it is seldom possible to foretell what a dictator, especially one who is half mystic and half politican of the ruthless type, will do. One thing is certain, however, the Third Reich is unquestionably strong enough to take action that might conceivably destroy European civilization.

Feeding and Care of Spirit

FROM TOKIO COMES A LIST OF WARtime commandments laid down for the Japanese people by the Central Federation of General Spiritual Mobilization.

According to the federation's list of thoushalts, the process of mobilizing the Japanese spirit requires everyone to pray for the imperial family every morning, live on a budget, exercise daily, wear simple clothing, economize on basic commodities and rice wine, retire early and rise early, and cultivate the spirit of neighborliness.

It all has the familiar wartime flavor, and doubtless the Japanese are taking it with the customary submission. But would it not be refreshing to find a people whose government had involved them in an aggressive war issuing commandments to the government some time?

The thou-shalts would be similar. The government would be required to pray for the people every morning, live on a budget, and wear an ensemble composed of sackcloth and ashes and a hair shirt. It would be forced to economize on men and materials, and cut down on the consumption of the heady wine of mutual adoration and ambition. It would be forbidden to go to bed at all, but required instead to sit up thinking of the consequences of its actions, and, we never can tell, it might wind up by cultivating the spirit of neighborliness itself.

In the good old days there were also crises, but with breathing spells between.

In the eyes of the Czechs and some others the mobilized German army might be said to be "loitering with intent."

An Oberlin College professor is quoted as stating that King Solomon was vastly overrated. It must be a misprint for over-mated.

Excavators in our neighbor city Salem are puzzled to find that part of a tree below the ground has wrapped itself around a bottle. Probably at one time it contained root beer.

OLD TORIES AND DR. MANION

From Winnipeg Free Press

What does the Conservative Party think of Dr. Manion's program and his crusade? Some, no doubt, heartily approve of the spirit of reform and the zeal for social justice, which he displays. Many other responsible members of the party want to know more definitely what he stands for and just how he intends to carry out the reforms of which he speaks. By these Conservatives, his pronouncements are taken with some reserve. And another section of the party, which in the past has been very influential, is utterly and implacably opposed to this new deal, "leftist" program.

The extent to which the party is divided is indicated by the reference of the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph, a supporter of Dr. Manion, to the "impenitent, case-hardened Tories" who were only concerned about "saving the last remnants of their own "special privileges," and who had been mainly responsible for reducing the Conservative party at Ottawa to such a low ebb. The Montreal Star, apparently devoid of a sense of humor, had poked fun at Dr. Manion's talk of the danger of "revolution" if the economic system were not soon reformed. The Star could not see anything funny about its own "Whisper of Death" by which it attempted to stampede this country into certain policies some years ago. Lately, the Montreal Gazette had also told Dr. Manion that the solution of present-day problems that he has been offering the country are "an affront to Conservative "thought in Canada," and that he is liable to lose the support of "the great political element in this country" upon which he must rely and which, if he does not take warning, may be compelled to "seek a new allegiance." More recently the Gazette has dwelt upon the high cost of the "new deal" policies in the United States.

AS I SEE IT

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

SCHOOL'S IN

THE BOYS AND GIRLS are off to school again. And it must be apparent to anyone who really will study the facts that the youngsters of this day and age go to school a good deal more willingly than their fathers and mothers went even in the early days of this century.

This is particularly so in B.C. When we arrived here last year one of the things which pleased us most was the character of the public schools. There has been a tremendous change in the schools of the east in the past few years. The old-fashioned semi-Prussian style of discipline has been thrown out. Yet my observation is that the schools in this province are far more friendly and progressive in the relationships between teachers and pupils. In my day, for instance, no one would have dreamed of playing an April Fool joke on the teacher without expecting to be soundly trounced if caught. Yet here in Victoria my girls tell me that their teachers take such jokes just like normal people take them outside school. Everybody laughs and it is all over. Thus all along the line. The schoolroom does its work like the really efficient office or shop —where the old gap between boss and others is bridged by commonsense and friendliness.

HOW FATHERS KEEP YOUNG

IN MANY PARTS OF North America one of the most spectacular-sounding changes of the past few years has been in doing away with homework. We have lived where there was supposed to be homework and also where there was supposed to be none. But it really doesn't seem to make much difference. The youngsters arrive home with just as big a pile of books. It seems that under the voluntary system the teachers suggest that certain work be done whereas in the old days it was a question of do this or else! In any event it ends up by dad or mother doing most of the work. And believe me it helps to keep them young.

One of the reasons why I am opposed to abolishing homework is that it helps to give families another tie which they would not have without it. I know of nothing more amusing than watching a father in action when the boy or girl wants a bit of help, say with compound fractions, or intricate decimals. It does the whole family good to be silently reminded that while dad may be a big shot in his own corner of the business world he is decidedly not so hot when it comes to wrestling with the kind of problems that the arithmetic professors think up to put in the school books. The only thing more weird and wonderful was the kind of sentences they used to put in the French grammars. I met plenty of chaps in France who had taken French both in high school and university and yet who didn't know how to order ham and eggs with any certainty of being understood.

Homework makes the boys and girls really use their own heads even if they use said heads by getting someone else to help them do the job. That, after all, is about all that any school can teach anybody—apart from pounding in some routine facts about this world.

I know professors in most of the Canadian universities. But the best educated man in Canada in my estimation, is not on any teaching staff. He never went beyond high school. But he did learn somewhere or other how to put his hand on the world's best books. His own private library is not so large. But in almost every field of useful knowledge he has read the best books that there are to read.

AT SEA

ON THE QUEEN MARY—In those old-time heart-throb novels, when the heroine was deserted by the rake and grew pallid as a wax taper, the good family doctor would prescribe a long sea voyage.

The theory seemed to be that Lady Ethel would be restored to vitality by vigorous whiffs of salt air, and maybe meet on the boat a poor but deserving ship chandler's lawyer who would let bygones be bygones, wed the maid and give her unborn child his name of Culepepper P. Weebles, Bart.

My own view of the salubriousness of a sea voyage is a bit skeptical today. Because this is written after a stormy and sleepless night on the fogbound Atlantic, and thus far I have met no Lady Ethel, languishing and waiting to endow a newspaper man with her ancestral estates if he will but restore the roses to her faded face.

AWAY FROM IT ALL

So while the rain washes over the deck and the spray batters the closed portholes, we huddle forlornly in the smoke room, and the steward complains that everyone sleeps and no one drinks, and his domain has changed to a "doss house, damn me."

Yet I will say this for any sea voyage, however thick the weather. When the anchor is hoisted, the past is mysteriously blotted out. All of the frets of yesterday are dissolved; the problems that seemed so momentous a week ago are today only a part of the mist that blows in billows over the timeless waves.

The illusion of isolation from the world of events is fostered by the fact that at breakfast we do not read a paper fat with the world's folly.

The Spanish and Japanese wars, the latest Nazi outrages in Germany and Austria seem echoes of something heard long ago and all but forgotten in the more timely and important task of recalling the hour of the "second sitting" for supper and mastering the mysteries of shuffleboard.

Not that we are entirely without tidings. Each day the ship issues a paper entitled Ocean Times. In the copy before me at this writing I find such delightful headlines as "Are Tonsils Necessary?" "Monkeys Taught to Work," "Exhibition of Famous Bibles," "Theft of a Chimney Stack."

Ah, well, these are idle thoughts, and the fog still blows in billows over the blue waves, and we had Yorkshire pudding for lunch and found it of an amazing tastelessness.—EM.

Canada Year Book

Publication of the 1938 edition of the Canada Year Book, by authorization of the Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1938 Canada Year Book extends to almost 1,200 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of Canada is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress which the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871, 67 years ago.

Attention may be called to some of the more important features of the present volume.

In Chapter 1, which treats of physiography, a revised article on the geology of Canada; Part 3—Seismology—last published in the 1931 Year Book, is brought up to date this year; and a special article, "The Flora of Canada," prepared by John Adams, M.A. (Cantab.), Division of Botany, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, appears as Part 4. In Part 7, which deals with climate and meteorology, a new section and tables on times of sunrise and sunset in Canada are given.

A part on historic sites and monuments in Canada is added to Chapter 2. A section on the government of Canada's Arctic territory has been added to Chapter 3 at pp. 92-93, and at pp. 110-119 the provincial legislatures from 1924 to the present are tabulated, tying in with the series from Confederation to 1923 published in the 1924 Year Book.

A special feature of Chapter 8 article—agriculture—this year is the article dealing with the prairie farm rehabilitation program inaugurated by the Dominion Government to alleviate the conditions brought about by the incidence of the recent agricultural crisis in the west, and to provide for permanent improvements in areas suffering from drought and soil-drifting.

All the space that could be spared in Chapter 19 —labor and wages—has been given to a summary review of labor legislation in Canada, and to an extended treatment of mothers' allowances by individual provinces.

In addition to the special features mentioned, some progress has been made in filling in the new framework of Chapter 27—transportation and communications—as it was recast last year, but unfortunately certain of the statistical series are not yet complete. The section of Chapter 21—public finance—which deals with capital investments in Canada and Canadian investments abroad, has been completely revised and a new series of historical statistics on a comparative basis, which entirely replaces all earlier figures, is now presented for the years 1926 to 1935. In Chapter 23—currency and banking—the tables concerning loan and trust companies have been recast, statistics regarding small loans companies separated therefrom, and a separate section on small loans companies added; the business of these companies has now reached considerable proportions and, in view of the special legislation governing their incorporation and operation, the separation is desirable. The review of life insurance given in Chapter 23 has been rounded out by the inclusion of text and tables covering the business of Canadian companies abroad, and Chapter 25—education—has been recast, both in regard to textual treatment and tabular presentations.

A list of special articles appearing in past editions from the year 1922-23 to 1937 will be found.

There are over 30 maps and charts contained in the volume, and two photo-gelatine inserts illustrating the sections on "The Flora of Canada" and "Historic Sites and Monuments," respectively. Three lithographed maps are included.

Persons requiring the Year Book may obtain it from the King's Printer, Ottawa, as long as the supply lasts, at the price of $1.50, which covers merely the cost of paper, printing and binding. By a special concession, a limited number of paper-bound copies have been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain copies at the nominal price of 50 cents each.

GLASGOW'S "JUNGLES"

To the Editor:—Many Old Country people have an exceedingly poor opinion of the press in North America, and after reading the article on "Boys and Girls from London and Glasgow Slums on Way to Fairbridge," by Peter Stursberg, one need no longer wonder. B.C. government extends a welcome to children from "the jungles of Glasgow" on their way to Fairbridge—jungles, forsooth!

Two days after arriving in Victoria from Glasgow I was accosted by street collectors begging for Victoria's hungry children—all amid a gay pageant of beauty and flowers. Later I saw Victoria's soup kitchen.

Glasgow slums have world-wide publicity, but after 10 years' work among the poor I can confidently state that the council there have seen to it that those who are unemployed do not starve. All are fed, clothed and, in many cases, live in modern homes. The past has given this problem, but Glasgow is tackling it in a most efficient manner.

Here in a new country one is appalled at the unemployment where there is so large a bounty from nature. Is it due to mismanagement? Or does B.C. solve her problems by bringing children from Britain? Can't they take their own young people to Fairbridge? There are plenty of them in urgent need of training and employment.

WANTS JEWS BROUGHT HERE

To the Editor:—It is costing Great Britain much in lives, money and worry in the attempt to settle the Jews in Palestine—a land which the Arabs, after centuries of settlement, look upon as their own and are determined, apparently, to keep.

It seems to be taken for granted that the Jewish people, so bitterly persecuted, really want to settle in the Holy Land, but is it not possible that they would prefer to dwell in the New World or Australia? There they would be as safe from Arab raids as from Fascist espionage, internment camps or brutality.

Surely a cultured race, like the Jews, who have given to the world some of its greatest scientists, doctors, statesmen, philosophers, musicians, etc., would be an asset to any country who gave them a welcome and security?

Could we not well use them here to help people this vast, thinly populated land of ours, and how much would be our gain from their thrift and culture?

Then from the angle of British interests in the Holy Land, it would make of the Arabs friends and allies rather than the bitter enemies they are fast becoming, making them ready material for any country, antagonistic to Britain, who would seek to gain a foothold in the Near East and so dominate the Suez Canal.

It would also, by giving the land to the Arabs, fulfil the pledge made to them by Lawrence of Arabia (acting for Great Britain) during the Great War.

So long as the money system remains—short though that time may be—whichever country gives refuge, friendship and full support to the Jewish people will have the backing of Jewish finance and so dominate the situation.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

To the Editor:—Dogs are all right in their place—that is, in their home place.

From long and observing personal experience, I know that the dogs for many blocks around do not dirty up their own place, can't possibly dirty up their own place—from the looks of our place.

MR. HEPBURN'S FARMS

From St. Thomas Times-Journal

The output of Mr. Hepburn's farms is as varied as it is immense. Of course, everyone knows about the onions, which may be regarded as the piece de resistance, for quality and quantity. The milk and cream from several score of well-fed, and therefore contented, cows is no small item. There is the grain, the cows, the potatoes and the roots. Most interesting to see are the herds of young steers being fattened for market, while the prize-winning Clydesdales and Percherons are never-failing objects of interest.

NEW ZEALAND LEADERSHIP

To the Editor:—It would seem that we Canadians enjoy farce and tragedy much more than the New Zealanders. They seem to prefer drama. While New Zealand advances along the lines of Socialism, which spells security for the masses, we are content (?) with the "Ins and the Outs" doing the acting while other would-be actors of Socialism in a third party strive for the stage.

So far as I can interpret social reform I would say that Socialism and social reform are not alternatives but complement, and it is therefore interesting to observe advances New Zealand has made in this regard, such as old age pension (which, I believe, are for age 60), with a pension of $7.50 per week plus an allowance for income of $5 per week. Now glance at Canada with old age pensions for age 70 of $20 per month and no income allowance. It is surely a tragedy.

I note also that for the first time in history the farm laborers of New Zealand have secured wages and hours standards. This is really a wonderful achievement, as the farmer is surely one of the most exploited of all classes!

These and other economic changes, coming quietly, without the hurdy-gurdy of a dictatorship or the loss of any feature of democracy, provides food for thought. I believe that any country adopting producers', consumers' and marketing co-operatives to the extent New Zealand has will find that as the co-operative principles enter the various phases of life the changes most of us desire will come about gradually and quietly at first, and with increased momentum as the idea takes root, but still peacefully, though if we can judge by results, very effectively.

WORKING WIVES

To the Editor: — About two weeks ago I read in an issue of your paper where all civic employees had their wages restored to predepression levels. This being the case, I would like to ask how it is that civic employees' wives are allowed to work when there is so much unemployment in this city? I understand this practice is contrary to regulations, but nevertheless there are a number of cases to my knowledge.

"BRITISH" (?) COLUMBIA

To the Editor:—Quoting from Sir Evelyn Wrench, C.M.G., in Overseas for August: "The British Commonwealth today is one of the greatest individual forces for good in the world. As far as the white races are concerned, it has solved the problem of granting freedom to each Dominion within its orbit. . . . We have sincerely and disinterestedly got to help the varied peoples committed to our charge to prosperity and political freedom. The British Commonwealth, if it is but true to its concepts, means that every section of the world under the sovereignty of King George VI must ultimately control its own destiny as a free-will member state." Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary of State for the Colonies, thus summed up the aims of British colonial policy at Oxford recently: "The primary aim is the gradual spread of freedom among His Majesty's subjects in whatever part of the empire they live," and the ultimate goal "the establishment of the various colonial communities as self-supporting and self-reliant members of a great commonwealth of free peoples and nations. If under the British flag we can show that it is possible for peoples of every creed, color and civilization to live together at peace, following their own vocations and living according to their own customs, we have made the greatest contribution within our power towards the ultimate goal of world unity."

"A free commonwealth" is one that will not tolerate inequality of privilege among its citizens, whose laws are such as exclude possibility of any differentiation as to rights and opportunities being brought about by prejudice regarding race or color. It is common knowledge that such differentiation exists today in this province, and that our franchise laws do impose certain disabilities on "our colored native-born Oriental fellow-citizens"—thanks to Sir E. Wrench for that expression.

Unless we are now ready to amend those laws, and so fall in line with other dominions in observance of those principles of freedom on which all British dominion is founded, it would be as well if we drop that word "British" from the name of Canada's Pacific province.

GREAT MEN FROM ANDERSON

From St. Mary's Journal-Argus

Rev. John Lane of Manitoba reminds us that from the same country corner west of St. Mary's known as Anderson, where Rt.-Hon. Arthur Meighen was born, the father of the new principal of United Church College, Winnipeg, Dr. W. C. Graham (himself a native of St. Marys) first saw the light of day. Other professors at Manitoba University, Dr. Baird, former dean of Manitoba College, and Dr. Teir, present dean of arts at the University, hail from Motherwell, a few miles from Anderson, and are graduates of St. Marys Collegiate Institute. Rev. C. H. Dickinson, the young man who was recently appointed to the headship of the United Church publishing house, spent his youthful days at Anderson and St. Marys. And Dr. Lane himself is an Anderson old boy.

WATER REVENUE UP

Total revenue from Victoria's Sooke Lake and Goldstream water systems for the first eight months of this year stood at $252,759, just $12,127 ahead of the aggregate for the first two-thirds of 1937, according to figures released last week by the waterworks department.

Figures showed August $7,656 ahead of the same month last year.

The Sooke Lake system during the eight months produced a total revenue of $195,146.34, as compared with $185,167.30 for the period from January 1 to August 31 last year. During August, the Sooke Lake system produced $31,179.59, as against $26,680.47 last year.

Revenue from the Goldstream section for the eight months amounted to $57,612.84, compared with $55,465.17 for the corresponding period of 1938, and for the month of August the revenue amounted to $9,443.599, as against $6,287.28.

TRICK RIDER AND PARTY TO PERFORM

Splendid Program Promised Each Night at Exhibition Horse Show

Equestrian thrills and cowboy laughs will be the entertainment menu at the Horse Show at the Victoria Fair all this week. Buff Brady Jr., world's champion trick rider, and Elmer Holcomb, cowboy clown and his trick mule "Mae West," are the stars of a group of 16 roughriders brought to the fair from the Diamond W. Ranch at Ellensburg, Wash.

The riders have been enlisted from the best rodeo performers in Alberta, Washington, Idaho and Montana. Together with the four and six-horse teams, and the saddle-horse riding and jumping contests these riders will provide a two-hour program every night at the fair, starting at 8.15. A band will be in attendance.

Buff Brady Jr. has performed in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and other big centres, and is noted for the amazing feat in which he turns a complete somersault and lassoes and catches a horse while riding. He also lassoes and catches horses while standing on his head, and crowning all these stunts he captures five horses with one throw.

Mrs. Maude Barnett, champion bronco rider, has some amazing tricks to perform, while Elmer Holcomb has plenty of laughs for the crowd.

The 16 roughriders as a group perform some spectacular rough-riding, tricks and also fancy riding.

Big Bad Wolf Drives N. Scotia Miners Into C.C.F.

High Finance Seen as Basic Cause Of Industrial Distress

This is the third article in the series on Maritime politics which the Ottawa correspondent of the Victoria Times is writing after having investigated conditions in the Eastern provinces at first hand.

By NOMAN MacLEOD

OTTAWA—This is not the story of Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf, although it almost might be. That is to say, if it were not a true story but a fairy tale, and if it had a happy ending instead of an ending of tragedy and despair, then it would be a story with many similarities to the childhood classic.

It is the story of Pictou County and corporation finance. To tell it is to go a long way towards explaining why the fire of political revolt is spreading like a prairie holocaust over the Maritime heather, and why the inconsiderate United Mine Workers—the most powerful labor organization in the eastern provinces—jolted the old-line parties on Parliament Hill out of the hot-weather apathy the other day by voting almost unanimously to affiliate with the C.C.F. for political action.

Pictou County is the centre of the operations of the once-famous Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company. Back after the war this enterprise, with the thousands of workers dependent upon it, was the mainstay of one of the most comfortable sections of the entire Maritime provinces. It had $5,000,000 in Dominion of Canada bonds in its treasury. It distributed pay envelopes to its workers which, if they did not encourage luxury, at least made possible a decent standard of living. Then the big bad wolf came along.

PROMOTERS GET BUSY

The big bad wolf in this case was Corporation Finance. The British Empire Steel merger was proposed by promoters hungry for the profits that they visualized in the promotion. "Scotia"—traditional mainstay of a whole people—was enticed into the scheme on the representation that $20,000,000 would be spent on its plant by the new company. But when the deal was completed the new company, instead of spending the promised $20,000,000, virtually closed the Scotia steel plant altogether.

In short order Besco went the way of all promotions of its kind. The water oozing out of its capital structure furnished the rich gravy for some of the financial interests participating, but Pictou County pay envelopes were dealt their first severe blow. They became fewer and thinner.

After the Besco fiasco Scotia again recovered its operating identity, but this time under the domination of the Dominion Steel and Coal Company, which for the modest consideration of $140,000 per annum, administered its affairs and allotted it whatever share of the coal and steel market it did not want for itself. In this manner the stage of receivership for Scotia was finally achieved, and the receivers and liquidators made a pilgrimage to Pictou County to tell the coal miners there how serious were the conditions which they faced, and how necessary it was that they should take a 25 per cent cut in wages which already were barely at the subsistence level. One of the liquidators impressed upon the miners how public-spirited were the financiers who were trying to salvage the industry. They were serving voluntarily, he told the miners, and not receiving a cent for their labors.

TAKING THE CREAM

With this noble example of sacrifice by the financiers before them, the miners felt themselves shamed into accepting the 25 per cent cut. Theirs, however, was a genuine self-denying ordinance; that of the financiers was bogus. Several months later—in fact, only a few weeks ago—the liquidators and receivers came bare-facedly before the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, acknowledged having received $70,000 for their services, and asked for $150,000 more. At the same time it was revealed in the course of the evidence that, at the time at which the Scotia miners had been persuaded to take their 25 per cent pay cut, the industry had been paying executive salaries of $100,000 and $75,000. To its lasting credit as a tribunal of British justice, the Nova Scotia Supreme Court cut the bill of $150,000 additional which the receivers and liquidators presented to $10,000.

The argument of the liquidators for their $150,000, however, remains almost unique as an example of frankness on the part of interests that have just completed a deal in corporation finance. They said plainly that they were simply claiming some of the "cream" which the transaction that they had engineered had created. Pressed for details as to what constituted the "cream," they explained how Scotia bond and debenture holders were to cash in at practically 100 cents on the dollar, and how other creditors had been satisfactorily taken care of.

The court was not called upon to go into the matter of who had skimmed off this "cream" from the receivership. Had it done so, it would have had to demand the production of the names of the "insiders" who bought the Scotia bonds, which subsequently sold at $95, when they were at their low point of $6. Certainly none of the miners got any of the "cream"; all they got was a 25 per cent cut in their pay.

FINANCIAL "KILLINGS" DENOUNCED

The result of the Scotia receivership is another merger. Scotia is now to be joined formally and absolutely to Dosco. The people of Pictou County, remembering that the previous merger closed their steel mills, are afraid that the present one will close their coal mines. Nor are their fears without foundation. The more modernly-equipped pits of Dosco on Cape Breton Island can raise all the coal that the company needs for its market at a cost 40 cents cheaper per ton than in Pictou County—although the Pictou County seams are better and with proper equipment and labor relations based upon the confidence of the miners in the management, could be operated at least as efficiently as the Cape Breton properties.

The "killing" which financial interests have made in recent months in Scotia bonds, and the huge fees which receivers and liquidators have taken for their services, is typical of the general story of exploitation which surrounds the mining industry of the Maritime provinces ever since the promoters arrived on the job some two decades ago. The 25 per cent cut imposed on miners who were working only short time at the best was typical of the other side of the picture.

In recent weeks the Scotia-Dosco merger has been denounced from highly responsible quarters as definitely inimical to the thousands of Pictou County workers dependent for their bread and butter upon the continuance of Scotia operations. There has been a demand from the miners, from the independent press, from leading Maritime citizens with a reputation for sincere public service, for a Royal Commission to investigate the merger before it is sealed and delivered. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett even brought the situation before the attention of the House of Commons in the closing hours of the last session.

POLITICAL REVOLT GROWING

All governments have ignored the agitation. They have followed their established precedent of standing on the side-lines and watching the unequal spectacle of powerful financial interests exploiting thousands of economically helpless Canadians. The attitude is the same as was responsible for the rejection of the fishermen's petition against the steam trawlers, simply because of trifling technical defects. The fact that the cause of social justice is involved apparently makes no appeal to the governments concerned.

Then the old-line parties are surprised when the symptoms of revolt are manifested from the Maritimes. They seem to think that because the miners and fishermen have been patient for so long, they should have forfeited their right to protest. They forget that it is a long lane which has no turning. Fishermen and miners cannot suffer the starvation conditions which have been existing among them for the past many years without ultimately raising their ballots in a last desperate attempt at an effective protest action.

The annual meeting of Ward 4 Ratepayers' Association, Saanich, will be held tomorrow evening in C.C.F. Hall, Sevenoaks, at 8.

WEDDINGS

FREWING—HENDERSON

The Salvation Army Citadel, effectively decorated with flowers in the Army colors and palms, was filled with an interested congregation on Saturday evening for the wedding of Adjutant Flossie Henderson, Melville, Sask., and Captain Ronald Frewing of this city, with Major F. Merritt, Vancouver, conducting the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. K. C. Wincher, Melville, Sask., and of the late Mr. F. Henderson, and the bridegroom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Frewing, Obed Avenue.

Mr. L. Partington played the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus" before the bridal party entered. Adjutant Martin gave the bride in marriage, and when she arrived, the citadel band played "Gladsome Melodies," and accompanied the songsters, who sang "Thou Wilt Keep Them in Perfect Peace." Captain Winnie Fitch attended the bride, and Mr. Alfred Frewing supported his brother, all being in the Salvation Army uniform. The band played again as the party left the hall.

A reception was held later at the home of the bridegroom's parents in a setting of pink and white, where the bride's cake centred the buffet supper table.

After a honeymoon trip on the island and at Melville, Captain and Mrs. Frewing will make their home in South Edmonton, where the bridegroom is in charge of the Salvation Army work.

LANGRIDGE—DOWNS

At the Metropolitan United Church Parsonage at 8.30 Friday evening Rev. A. E. Whitehouse united in marriage Miss Edith Ellen (Nellie) Downs, of Vancouver, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Downs of Vancouver, and Mr. Alfred E. Langridge of Brentwood, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Langridge of Toronto.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fred Downs of Vancouver and wore a powder blue tailleur of silk and wool crepe with navy blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Downs of Vancouver, who wore a dress of pale blue flowered georgette, a navy blue felt hat and other accessories in navy blue, while her corsage was of rose carnations. Dr. W. W. Bryce of Victoria supported the bridegroom, and Mr. Will Downs, brother of the bride, rendered the wedding music.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Miss Eunice Allen, 1618 Fell Street, where a large number of guests were welcomed by Miss Allen, wearing a frock of rose lace, a black hat and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

In the reception rooms, yellow chrysanthemums and goldenrod formed the floral decorations. The dining table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked with pale pink lighted tapers in silver holders and small vases of sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Langridge left for Seattle to spend their honeymoon in Washington State and will later make their home at Brentwood. For traveling the bride donned a navy blue duvetyn cloth coat trimmed with a grey wolf collar.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Will Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Downs, Miss Ethel Downs, Mrs. G. Gaisford, Mrs. James Glover, Mrs. Tom Gibson, Miss Verna Huston and Miss Margaret Kerr, all of Vancouver.

ARCHER—PALLISER

At a quiet wedding at St. John's Church on Saturday evening, Rev. G. R. V. Bolster united in marriage Mary Frances (Mollie), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Christon Palliser, Selkirk Avenue, and Mr. John Rolfe Archer, elder son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Irving Archer, Victoria. Miss Margaret White, a friend of the bride, played the wedding music at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a smart suit of beige, with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and swansonia. Miss Margaret Watson, the bridesmaid, wore a brown and yellow ensemble with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of roses and carnations in blending shades. Mr. Ted Cuthbertson supported the bridegroom.

Virginia creeper, carnations and gladioli were artistically arranged in the home of the bride's parents for the reception, which was held later, the guests being received by Mrs. Palliser in a frock of Mediterranean blue and matching accessories, assisted by Mrs. V. Rolfe, who wore a frock of blue silk and wool and accessories en suite. They also wore corsage bouquets of roses. Dahlias and Virginia creeper were arranged on the supper table, which was centred with the wedding cake.

After a trip by motor to Kamloops, Mr. and Mrs. Archer will return to Victoria to live.

M.P.'s Son Married To Charming Bride

Miss Elza Lovitt and Mr. Alan Mayhew Principals at Lovely Wedding at St. Mary's Saturday Evening

St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, was beautifully decorated with flowers for the wedding on Saturday evening of Elza Edith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lovitt, Lincoln Road, and Mr. Charles Alan Mayhew of Vancouver, second son of Mr. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Mrs Mayhew, Beach Drive, Oak Bay.

Standard baskets of gladioli, dahlias, delphinium and other flowers in tones of peach, blue and mauve, banked the chancel rail, and the light from tall cathedral tapers in graduated candelabra in the chancel, cast a soft glow over the ceremony which was performed by Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns, in the presence of a large congregation. The guest pews were marked with tiny Colonial bouquets tied with white tulle.

Surpliced choir boys, singing "The Voice That Breath'd O'er Eden," preceded the bride as she walked up the aisle with her father. Mr. F. T. C. Wickett was at the organ.

IN LOVELY GOWN

The bride was a picture in her wedding gown of ivory crepe ninon-de-soie over satin, with sweetheart neckline, the corselet bodice trimmed with handmade trailing roses and leaves of the material, stitched with silver, the full-flowing skirt edged with hand-corded hemline. The long court train flowed from the shoulders of a high fitted jacket edged with cording, the fishtail outline of the train being bordered with ninon roses and leaves. Her long veil of filmy white tulle was worn with a headdress of tiny white satin and chiffon rosebuds, and a second short veil was worn over the face for the service. The bride's only ornament was a beautiful string of pearls, a family heirloom, and she carried a bouquet of bouvardia, white phlox, rosebuds and swansonia.

FOUR ATTENDANTS

Four attendants comprised the bridal retinue. Miss Eileen Pendray, the maid of honor, and the Misses Jean Mayhew, Doreen McGregor and Elaine Adam of Vancouver, were an attractive picture in their Victorian frocks of lily of the valley green French chiffon over satin, with puff sleeves, stand-up shoulders and heart-shaped neckline. The tightly fitted bodices were trimmed with a twisted girdle of coral peach and green, and their bouffant skirts were marked at the hemline with two wide bands of corded ruching.

Bandeaux of fresh flowers, fashioned in Mary Queen of Scots style, long mittens of green lace, and bouquets of giant peach nymphus, cream stocks and antirrhinum, completed their charming toilettes.

Mr. Logan Mayhew was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon Lovitt, Mr. W. K. Gwyer, Mr. Ian Angus and Mr. Sholto Marlatt of Vancouver.

MANY AT RECEPTION

After the ceremony a largely attended reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, the reception rooms being massed with giant nymphus in coral shades and other early fall flowers. The bride's mother received in a handsome gown of Queen Elizabeth blue suede lace, with sheer crepe insets of deeper tone, and a matching model hat trimmed with shaded roses and lace veil of darker blue. Assisting her was the groom's mother, in a Dubonnet lace gown over satin, with becoming wide-brimmed hat to match, trimmed with French flowers. Both wore corsage bouquets.

Supper was served in the dining-room, the table covered with a Florentine lace and embroidered cloth daintly decorated with Ophelia roses, and garlands of Star of Bethlehem gladioli and maidenhair fern, and tall pink tapers in Georgian silver candelabra. The three-tier bride's cake, topped with white heather and rosebuds, was cut to the accompaniment of the toast proposed by Professor G. P. Black of Vancouver.

couver. Mr. Logan Mayhew proposed the health of the bridesmaids.

Later the young couple left for Vancouver whence they will sail via the Panama Canal for New York and Montreal, returning by motor to Vancouver where they will make their home. The bride travelled in a tailored frock of teal blue French angora wool, embroidered in self material, with swagger coat of Oxford grey lamb, and a halo hat with facing of lamb, and accessories of black patent leather.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Senior, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smithson, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Field, Messrs. Walter Gage, Gordon Bell, Vincent Pinhorn, Kenneth Mayer, Jack Kennedy, David Angus and Dr. John McCaffrey, all of Vancouver.

TO VANCOUVER ISLAND

Land of glorious sunshine,
Isle of the evergreen,
The poet's dream of pure content
And wonderous silver sheen.

'Mid river, vale and mountain,
Where few white men have trod,
Comes the echo from the hollow,
By hand, the work of God.

Should by chance a stranger tarry,
Where e'er his thoughts may be,
'Tis here that God's green garlands
Stretch far into the sea.

Dreams of snow-capped mountains,
At sundown peaked with gold,
Of silvery, shimmering waters,
Their mystics dear untold.

Noted Film Writer Here With His Daughter

Victoria seems to have a special appeal for Hollywood notables, and the latest arrival here on holiday from the south is Mr. William Joyce Cowen, a writer for the films, who is a guest at the Empress Hotel today.

Mr. Cowen is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Antonia Cowen, who will enter Strathcona Lodge School for Girls at Shawnigan Lake.

Formerly adjutant of the Fort Garry Horse, Winnipeg, Mr. Cowen forsook his military career to take up a literary one. His success may be gauged by several recent notable productions, for R.K.O. has just filmed his book, "Blind Alibi," and he is the author of "They Gave Him a Gun," which was filmed by M-G-M.

His wife has also achieved success as a brilliant writer under the name of Leone Coffee, and together they wrote "Miss Aesop Butters Her Bread," which is also being filmed.

Another well known and frequent visitor at the hotel from Hollywood is Mrs. Richard Day, who has accompanied her daughter from the south on her return to resume her studies at Miss Gildea's school. Both girls are close friends, and among the treasured possessions which they have brought from the south is a tame black and white rat, which is housed in a beautiful handwoven basket from Samoa.

Mr. Richard Day, a former Victorian, has recently gone from United Artists to the Twentieth Century Fox films as artist-producer.

On leaving Victoria Mrs. Day will proceed to England to meet her son, Richard Jr., who has traveled from California via the Panama Canal to the Old Country, where he will continue his studies at Oxford University. He attended Shawnigan Lake School for Boys until last year.

New Process Used To Keep Silver Bright

CAMBRIDGE, Eng. (CP) — Three Cambridge scientists claim they have discovered a process which will prevent silver from tarnishing.

The trio—Dr. G. J. Thomas and Dr. L. E. Price, metallurgists, with advice of Dr. U. R. Evans—have found a means of covering silver with a hard but invisible film. The new alloy contains one per cent aluminum.

The reception rooms were decorated with gladioli, goldenrod and dahlias. Miss Mann was presented with a corsage bouquet of cream-colored roses by little Jacqueline Sisson, who was attired as a Colonial lady. The gifts were presented in a giant saucepan decorated in the prevailing colors. A sit-down supper was served, the color scheme being faithfully carried out even in the refreshments. A silver bowl containing cream African daisies surrounded by small silver vases of similar flowers formed the centrpiece for the table, while colored streamers from the lights to the corners of the rooms lent a festive air. The invited guests were Mrs. J. Mann, Mrs. C. Nicholls, Mrs. E. Lacey, Sr., Mrs. J. Skelton, Mrs. J. W. Pollard, Mrs. J. Harris, Mrs. D. Taylor, Mrs. E. Sisson, Mrs. M. Harris, Mrs. W. WEDDINGS

DICK—DAWSON

In a beautiful setting of pink and white gladioli the marriage of Evelyn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Dawson, 1315 Grant Street, and Mr. John Dick, eldest son of Mr. J. Dick, Balmoral Road, and of the late Mrs. Dick, was solemnized in St. John's Church at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

Entering the church with her father to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mr. G. Jennings Burnett, the bride was pretty in her long-sleeved gown of ivory satin, with a slight train and a cowl neckline, and an embroidered veil arranged beneath clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of tearoses and carnations. Miss Bessie Cruickshanks, the bridesmaid, was in pale yellow point d'esprit, and wore a floral bandeau in her hair and carried a bouquet of dusty-pink carnations and mauve snapdragons. Mr. Alec Dick was his brother's best man, and Mr. Arthur Jacobs and Mr. Owen Skinner were ushers.

During the signing of the register Mrs. N. Bertucci sang "Because," accompanied by Mr. Burnett.

After the ceremony a largely-attended reception was held in the K. of C. Hall, which was decorated in pink and blue. During the reception the bridal couple stood beneath a floral arch to receive the good wishes of their friends, and later supper was served from a table centred with the wedding cake. Mrs. Dawson received in a blue silk gown with matching accessories and was assisted by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Robertson of Vancouver, wearing a frock of black sheer trimmed with cut velvet and a hat and other accessories to match. Both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations. Dancing was enjoyed to the strains of a three-piece orchestra.

Among the many wedding gifts was an electric clock from the bridegroom's associates on the staff of the Begg Motor Company, and a silver casserole from the Daughters of England choir, of which the bride is a popular member.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Dick left for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride travelling in a smart ensemble in rust tones, with accessories to match, and will make their home in Victoria on their return.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. T. Dawson, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. Tait, Miss M. Dick, Miss Parker and Mr. H. Parker, all of Vancouver; Mrs. Brownhill of Ocean Falls, and Miss Leone Moulding of Port Townsend.

EDMONTON FIRE LOSS $100,000

Brigade Has Stiff Fight as Blaze Sweeps Store and Big Crowd Watches

EDMONTON (CP) — Damage estimated today at $100,000 was caused by a fire that gutted the Metropolitan Stores building in downtown Edmonton at noon Saturday as a crowd of 10,000 watched firefighters spray the three-story building with 11 lines of hose.

Two persons were injured, but not seriously, by flying glass. A glass splinter entered the left eye of Fireman Jake Smith, but the eye need not be removed. Miss Marjorie Miller, waitress in the store cafe, was hit by falling glass.

Fire Marshal J. Both estimated the blaze, which started in the basement kitchen and leaped to the roof through a ventilating flue, did $25,000 damage to the $100,000 building and caused $75,000 depreciation to the $250,000 stock.

"Miss America" Is Named; Choice Challenged

Ohio Girl Chosen Over "Miss California," Who Walks Out

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A blond dancing teacher from Ohio—Marilyn Meseke of Marion—was officially crowned "Miss America 1938" yesterday before a battery of newreel and news cameras.

Standing at her side was the girl who won third prize, "Miss Utah," Muriel Lavon Goodspeed of Salt Lake City. Conspicuously absent was her runner-up, Claire James of Los Angeles, who entered the pageant as "Miss California."

"Miss California" walked out on the pageant promoters, and left the city yesterday afternoon. Putting her in second place was "an insult," she said, and "I can't stand it. I've had one insult, after another heaped upon me since I came here.

Meanwhile, Earl Carroll, the theatrical producer, issued a statement charging that "if the judges were competent they undoubtedly would have picked Miss California as Miss America, and I'm going to crown her myself." He said he would book her for a cross-country tour as "Miss America."

"Miss America" began her own theatrical career today. For a week she will appear at a local amusement pier, and after that begin a United States tour. With her crown goes a screen test in Hollywood.

Leaders Endorse Health Week Drive

Authorities Are United In Support of Campaign

Opinions Given on Advantages of Preventive Medicine By Experts

Public health and social agency leaders joined today in wholehearted endorsement of Greater Victoria's Health Week activities, designed to attract general interest to questions of hygiene, sanitation and disease prevention.

From municipal, provincial and independent sources came statements on the value of the drive which opened today and will be carried on throughout the week.

Condensed opinions from different authorities follow:

BRIG.-GEN. J. G. AUSTIN

(President, Canadian Red Cross Society)

"Standing as it does for the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering, the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society endorses most heartily the efforts of the Greater Victoria Health Committee and wishes them a great success in Health Week."

"In furtherance of this aim for the improvement of health, Junior Red Cross branches have been formed throughout the province, there being 37 in Greater Victoria with 1,426 members.

"In these, children are taught healthful habits and the duty of service for others. Friendly international relationship is encouraged by correspondence and the exchange of albums with other Junior Red Cross branches throughout the world.

"All interested in Red Cross will be supporters of Greater Victoria Health Week.

DR. H. E. YOUNG

Provincial Health Officer

"Through the world people are gradually becoming more health conscious as a result of the educational work that has been carried on by official and voluntary organizations. The Greater Victoria Health Week Committee are to be especially commended for the effort they are making in this attempt to place before the citizens of Greater Victoria the advantages in Health which can accrue to the school and preschool child by protection against preventable diseases, through personal hygiene, and physical and recreational education. May I take this opportunity of wishing you the fullest measure of success from Health Week."

REV. F. COMLEY

Family Welfare Association

"We are accustomed to hear so many nice things said by visitors about our healthy city that we rather question the need for a "Health Week" in a part of the world to which God has given so much in natural beauty and healthy environment. Yet, every welfare worker knows there are many running sores in the body-politic in our beautiful city.

"Health Week suggests not only an ambulance to take care of the maimed but what is far more important preventive work to keep the individual and the community healthy. We all know it is much better to endeavor to keep a community healthy than to be mere 'menders of the maimed' after the damage is done."

MISS FRANCES FITZ GIBBON

President Victorian Order of Nurses

"The V.O.N. wish to express their hearty appreciation of Health Week. As a direct result of that week last year, the number of calls received by the order for nursing service were very appreciably increased and every new case attended means a chance to help in the education of the public in matters pertaining to hygiene and the prevention of illness. The trend of modern medicine is to prevention, rather than cure and publicity is the only means to spread the gospel of prevention. Health Week certainly is an excellent time to stress this important work."

H. DAVENPORT

Chairman Victoria Centre, St. John Ambulance Association

"On behalf of the St. John Ambulance Association of Victoria I would like to heartily endorse the Greater Victoria Health Week. The Venerable Order of St. John has been interested in the care of the sick and preservation of health for hundreds of years and the local association thoroughly approves of any move that makes for better health in the community. We hope that the citizens of Greater Victoria will enter into the spirit of Health Week for we know it will be to their mutual advantage."

DR. W. P. WALKER

Medical Health Officer, Oak Bay

"It has been said that every campaign against a major disease brings with it its wave of fear. A Health Week campaign that makes appeal to economic self interest can scarcely cause anxiety neurosis, and if it results in arousing a desire for social betterment, in leading to a realization that public health is not some one else's job—and in lessening the apathy so apt to be displayed by those whose lot is cast in pleasant places—which we in this community may claim as ours—it will have been worth while."

ALD. J. A. WORTHINGTON

Chairman Victoria Health Committee

"The education value of a Greater Victoria Health Week is of the greatest importance to the people of Victoria.

"Part of the policy of the Victoria Board of Health is to educate our citizens to the value of public health, and for this purpose a Health Week is of service to the community."

DR. FRED KINCAID

Unit Medical Director, T.B. Division, Victoria

"The objective of the Tuberculosis Division of the Provincial Board of Health is the control and prevention of tuberculosis.

"Every member of the community can help by seeing that full advantage is taken of the facilities for examination and treatment provided by the provincial government and also by supporting the Christmas Seal campaign. To preach and practice health and to prevent the spread of disease is the duty of every citizen and the Tuberculosis Division endorses Health Week because it should bring home this responsibility to every one in Greater Victoria."

DR. J. MURRAY ANDERSON

School Medical Officer, Victoria

"The school health service is very glad to participate in the activities of Health Week. It is felt that the program focusing attention on the needs of the preschool child will make a definite contribution to the development of a group of future school children, strong in mind and body, and protected from all preventable illness."

CHAIRMAN OF HEALTH DRIVE—Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, who, as chairman of the general committee on health week, has played an important part in bringing the attention of the public to means of promoting preventive medicine.

HELP IN HOMES—Above is a picture of a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses giving home treatment to a patient. The order has won warm praise for its excellent work among the under-privileged and in the general field of nursing.

VOICES PROVINCE'S SUPPORT — Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, whose co-operation in the campaign to increase public health consciousness has been of material assistance to the committee in its present work.

Health League Is Suggested

Education Great Need in Bringing About Appreciation of Public Welfare

"The value of a Health Week to a health department cannot be better summeed up than in the words of Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council in an article in the Canadian Public Health Journal for January 1936, entitled "Public Health Education and National Health," Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, declared today in an invitation to citizens to form a community health league.

He quoted the opinion of Dr. Bates as follows:

"Probably the first person to recognize the importance of education is the health officer who, having developed a preventive point of view (a view to develop much more slowly in the minds of his brethren of the clinic and even the laboratory), finds himself confronted with the fact that he cannot enforce public health laws; that he cannot persuade people to be inoculated or vaccinated; that he cannot induce them to assist him in purifying their food or water supplies because of ignorance. Hence the health officer was the first to insist upon the futility of public health endeavor unless education is recognized as one of the greatest factors in the success of a public health program."

If, among the people of Greater Victoria, a sufficient number of health-minded citizens can be found to endorse these sentiments, their efforts could be best expended in the formation of a community health league, whose primary object would be to stimulate health education by means of such activities as the present one.

Estate Waiver Is Ruled Invalid

EDMONTON (CP)—Mr. Justice W. R. Howson in an Alberta Supreme Court judgment here today ruled invalid an agreement signed in 1924 by Mrs. Kate Rist, 75, of Edmonton, not to make any claim on her husband's estate. The judgment said she should have a monthly income of $35 during her lifetime from the $17,206 estate of her late husband.

The couple signed a separation agreement in 1924 under which Mrs. Rist was given $6,000 and she agreed not to make any demand on the estate.

Mr. Justice Howson decided she could not validly make an agreement because the Interstate Successions Act and the Widows' Allowance Act were passed not solely in interests of the wife but also in interests of third parties who might become responsible for her sustenance.

Radio Lookouts at Work in Alberta

EDMONTON (CP)—Estimated to cost $15,000, four radio-equipped lookouts for fire detection stations have been placed in operation by the forestry branch of the Alberta Department of Lands and Mines.

The stations not only will locate fires but it is possible for them to convey reports of fires to inspectors and rangers immediately. The system is believed to be the first established in Canada.

Says Discipline Helps Child To Be Happy

Scottish Psychologist Flays Modern Theories of Freedom

LONDON—Children should be disciplined to make them happy and to give them a feeling of security, according to Mr. Rex Knight in an address to the British association at Cambridge. Mr. Knight is head of the Department of Psychology of Aberdeen University.

"A few eccentric schoolmasters and amateur educationalists," said Mr. Knight, "loudly assert that children should have no discipline at all but should be given freedom to develop as they will.

"Sometimes they even suggest that modern psychology supports this view.

"On the contrary, all our psychological work among children shows that they need a stable framework in which to live their lives. This can be provided only by discipline strictly enforced.

"Where there is no discipline there is no order, no sense of security and no justice—three things children essentially require. Moreover not only have children no need for absolute freedom, they have no desire for it.

"They do not want to be saddled with the intolerable burden of filling every unoccupied hour and settling every moral problem by their own unaided efforts.

"In short, the doctrine of no discipline and absolute freedom is absolutely false and pernicious," he continued.

Mr. Knight said that in many homes and in almost every school there was a "problem child"—a child who exhibited some disorder of thought or behaviour, such as stammering or nervousness, pathological lying or psychogenic illness which unaided commonsense could not remove.

Although mental and physical subnormality accounted for some of the psychological disorders of childhood in most cases an unsatisfactory home environment was the sole or principal cause.

Parents must realize, he said, that their sons and daughters must be emotionally as well as physically weaned.

DRUGGISTS BACK HEALTH SCHEME

Local Association Prepared to Accept Commission's Supply Contract

The Victoria Retail Druggists' Association, at the biggest meeting of that group in years, last night endorsed the principle of health insurance, and voiced a willingness to accept the contract proposed by the health insurance commission regarding provision of medical supplies.

The resolution, passed unanimously, stated:

"That the Victoria Retail Druggists Association goes on record as approving the principle of health insurance and co-operates with the provincial government by accepting the contract as proposed by the health insurance commission for supplying all drugs, medicines and sick room supplies as prescribed for the insured person."

A spoesman for the organization today stated the druggists considered the proposal quite in order and were prepared to assist the commission in meeting its request.

At the meeting Leonard B. Gough was elected president of the local association, with W. R. Clark, vice-president. Charles Hudson was returned as secretary.

Emphasize Work On Pre-school Child

Many Features to Attract Interest

Energetic Health Week Committee Plans Addresses and Displays

Health needs and policies to be followed in the care of the preschool age child will be featured this year in the Greater Victoria Health Week campaign which officially opened today.

Up to next Saturday an intensive drive will be conducted to direct public attention to measures by which disease prevention and physical correction can best be achieved and to arouse in the public generally a personal responsibility for health.

For practical health purposes the term of life is divided into six periods: Infancy up to 12 months; preschool from one year to six; school age from six to 16; adolescence from 16 to 21; maturity from 21 to about 65; and old age from 65 onwards.

It is unfortunately a well-recognized fact that children between infancy and school age are seldom considered from a health point of view. Of course most of these youngsters in the runabout age keep pretty fit, and if there are any minor troubles they are readily overshadowed or concealed by a boisterous and almost aggressive independence. But it is just this that is apt to deceive the fond parent, and the finding of so many defects which could have been corrected, on examination of school children in entrance classes, shows that the deception is very real.

BENEFICIAL EXAMINATIONS

To enable the child to obtain all the advantages of the educational system from the outset, the runabout should be examined periodically from infancy to school age.

Moreover, to prevent any chance of interruption in school life, it is most important to have these preschool children vaccinated against smallpox and toxoided against diphtheria.

And to enable the parents to get the full enjoyment of the effervescing energy of these youngsters they should be given the right kind of food and an adequate amount of rest.

Under the guidance of Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer of Victoria, an active program has been arranged for the week, during which time radio programs started over CFCT at 10.15, will continue daily, with a cash prize contest for housewives one of the features.

The division of recreational and physical education of the provincial education department, under the leadership of Ian Eisenhardt, will give displays of gymnastics on the small green in front of the secretary's office at the Willows Fair Grounds on Citizen's Day at 2.45 to 3.15, and a second show at 5 to 5.30.

Window display contests featuring the preschool child, with cash prize awards, is to be featured especially by drug stores throughout the city.

At the various service clubs addresses will be given by prominent medical men on subjects pertinent to health week.

The committee in charge of health week includes Dr. R. Felton, medical officer, Victoria, chairman; Dr. D. Berman, medical officer, Saanich; Dr. J. S. Cull, provincial health department; Dr. J. J. Murray Anderson, school medical officer; Dr. F. Kincaid, provincial director T.B. for Victoria; Miss A. Creasor, supervisor of the V.O.N.; Ernest Harris, president, Junior Chamber of Commerce; H. Davenport, chairman, St. John Ambulance Association; H. Butteris, secretary, Gyro Club, and Elwood Gropp, secretary of the health committee and member of the Victoria health department.

Contests on Radio Talks

Health Agencies To Be Discussed in Series of Morning Addresses

At 10.15 each morning over CFCT for 15 minutes health talks will be given concerning various organizations and dealing principally with the preschool child. Musical interludes will be played during the program.

Today a speaker for the Queen Alexandra Solarium was presented. Tomorrow the Jubilee Hospital spokesman will be heard. Wednesday's program will be devoted to the school health service, while on Thursday the St. Joseph's Hospital will be given prominence. On Friday the V.O.N. speaker will be presented, and on Saturday the Children's Aid Society will be the topic of discussion.

Each day a prize donated by various drug stores will be given to the first person phoning to CFCT the correct answer to a question asked during the broadcast. The clue to the answer will be given by the speaker during his talk.

Also each day a question will be asked concerning the talk given, making a total of six questions for the week for which written answers must be sent in to CFCT. The answer to each question must not exceed 50 words.

Persons competing in this contest must send in the complete set of six answers by Wednesday, September 21. The judges' decision will be final. First prize will be $8, second prize $5 and third prize $2.

Letters to the Editor

MODERNIZING MILK BOTTLES

To the Editor:—Twice lately I have seen mention in the newspapers of the number of milk bottles destroyed. For over a year I have wanted to ask why use glass bottles when the cardboard containers have so many advantages over the glass. First, they can only be used once which makes for sanitation; then the dairy companies would not have to handle them over and over again.

I have seen these board containers used with great satisfaction. They are sturdy, the same cap fits into the neck as is used in our glass bottles, and I have kept milk in them for several days and they were as firm when I threw them away as when received.

The use of these board containers might require more careful handling until delivered but they would also prevent bits of glass from being found in the milk, an experience I have had.

London Launches Science Society

Group for Study of Social Relations Formed in Britain

LONDON—A movement looking toward the formation of a Society for the Study of Social Relations of Science (S.R.S., it is proposed to call it for short) has been launched by an inquiry undertaken by the British science journal, Nature.

Born of a growing interest in the profound effects of science upon society, this new organization would first be formed in Great Britain and then in other great nations.

The idea of the S.R.S. is discussed with general approval by 38 leading British men of science who received Nature's proposal in advance of publication.

Three definite trends were cited as leading up to the S.R.S. proposal: 1. Resolutions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science last December stressing the social relations of science. 2. The British Association's move of several years ago for the discussion of social problems which science had helped to create and might help to solve. 3. Action by the International Council of Scientific Unions, which set up a committee on science and social relations last year charged with preparing a report to be issued in 1940.

As visualized by its proponents, S.R.S. would have individual membership not confined to scientists but dominated by them. It would receive, read, discuss, and, after consideration by suitable referees, publish papers submitted to it. It would not in general express group opinions, but leave readers to accept or reject the statements in its publications. It would be a society for the advancement of knowledge, not a propagandist body.

H. G. Wells, Sir William Bragg, president of the Royal Society, Sir F. Gowland Hopkins, and Prof. J. B. S. Haldane are among the 38 scientists who commented favorably on the S.R.S. proposal.

Rifle Shooting

Bandsman F. Drysdale and Sergeant A. E. Ashe, two well-known Canadian Scottish marksmen, posted scores of 91 out of a possible 100 to top the field in the second stage of the Weiler-Regan Trophy shoot held Saturday on Heals Range. An 88 was scored by Sergeant-Major W. H. Wood, high man in the first stage of the shoot held last week, which placed him in a two-way tie for fifth place with Sergeant J. H. Regan, also of the Scottish.

Sergeant Ashe and Sergeant-Major Wood are heading the field in the annual competition for the coveted trophy with totals of 187 for the two stages. Veteran Captain W. E. Tapley is holding down second place, one point behind the leaders, while Sergeant Regan is in third place with a score of 185.

The final stage, fired at 900 and 1,000 yards, will be completed next week. Aggregate scores will decide the holder of the trophy.

Cricket League Draws to Close

Albions Defeated in League Fixture By Victoria Club

The Victoria Cricket Club defeated the Albion eleven by three wickets in a league match held at Macdonald Park on Saturday afternoon.

E. D. Freeman, Albion captain, was high batter of the day, knocking out 43 runs before he was put out by a catch by V. Moore. P. Austin was high scorer for the Victoria eleven with 37 runs.

The 1938 season championship playoffs will open next Saturday when the Five C's oppose the University School Incogs. Victory for the churchmen will give them the title, whereas a defeat will enable the Incogs to go into a two-way tie for the leading berth.

Five C's defeated the Incogs in a friendly fixture on Saturday afternoon at the Beacon Hill grounds by the score of 73 to 49.

Realtors' Picnic

Members and friends of the Victoria Real Estate Board Saturday renewed acquaintances at Salt Spring Island, joining the affiliated Salt Spring Lands Limited in a day of sightseeing and social intercourse on the island playground.

The local party of 26 included board members and their immediate families.

Arriving from Swartz Bay, the party traveled from Fulford Harbor by car to Ganges where luncheon was served at Harbor House. David Leeming, president of the board, conveyed the Victoria group's thanks to the island hosts for their hospitality and expressed the Victorians' enjoyment of previous trips to that locality. In his remarks, Mr. Leeming voiced the hope a closer relationship would be built up between Victoria and the Gulf Islands generally. Gavin Mouat responded fittingly.

Following luncheon the party divided and visited various sections of the island under the guidance of island residents. The group reassembled for tea at Inglis' Camp, Vesuvius Bay, and returned to Fulford Harbor to board the ferry for home.

Government scientists say that apples in dry years are smaller and less juicy than apples in rainy years, but the small apples store better.

Consolidation of Schools Discussed

SOOKE—A special meeting of the ratepayers was held in Sooke Hall on Thursday evening to hear a report prepared by the inspector of schools in regard to establishing a school at Saseenos. The report was read by G. H. Jones and A. C. Helgesen was in the chair.

The Department of Education, not being in favor of one-room schools, where consolidation is possible, it was decided to take immediate action to provide transportation for the children of Saseenos for the winter months. A motion was carried to study the matter of consolidation of the districts of North Sooke and Otter Point School districts, with Sooke Superior School.

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA will have to go another year without the senior men's British Columbia softball championship. For five and a half innings in Vancouver on Saturday night I had the feeling Camerons were going to bring the elusive title to this city for the first time in five seasons. Then things started to happen, and in an inning and a half the crown looked as far away as ever.

Vancouver Albertas were the better team in the deciding battle of the best-of-three series. They collected 15 hits, including a pair of home runs, as against only four for Camerons. However, the break in the ball game came in the last of the sixth. With the bases loaded on two errors and a single Camerons appeared to have pulled themselves out of the hole with a smart double play. Then McLellan cut loose with a wild heave to let home the tieing run and a hit gave Albertas the lead. From that stage to the finish it was all Vancouver.

In fairness to Camerons it must be said they played under a big handicap. First, the local boys were performing under the floodlights for the first time. And don't think it didn't make a difference. Victoria fans know how safe Vic Dale is in the outfield, but even he had trouble judging fly balls, and in one instance a high one dropped three feet away from him. Another time Archie Emery nearly broke his back pulling in a foul pop on the first base line. He just couldn't follow the flight of the ball.

And Rosy McLellan, Camerons' brilliant little pitcher, had his troubles, too. The pitching mound at Athletic Park was not all it might have been, but his greatest difficulty was trying to hold the wet ball. The umpires kept changing the pellets frequently but they were still slippery. After every pitch nearly, it was necessary for Rosy to wipe the ball dry on his sweater. With a heavy dew the grass diamond was soggy with moisture. To beat Albertas, McLellan had to be at the peak of his form. The Victoria hurler took his defeat pretty hard, but he can mark down the present season as one of his greatest. McLellan pitched brilliant ball all year and played a major role in Camerons reaching the provincial final.

Congratulations must be extended to Harris Cyclists in winning the British Columbia junior softball championship. These youngsters turned in a fighting exhibition to whip Vancouver Heather Cubs in a preview to the senior engagement. Outstanding in the victory was Joe Bryant, classy hurler of the Cyclists. He pitched bang-up ball and has the prospects of a great moundsman in a couple of seasons.

Had a long talk to Bob Brown, boss of Athletic Park. He was telling me the recent season was one of the best in the history of amateur ball in Vancouver. His games attracted large crowds all season. Brown was disappointed that a couple of his clubs had not come to Victoria this season for exhibition games.

During the conversation Brown, who has looked over a lot of mighty fine ball players, said he had been down to Seattle to watch the sensational Freddie Hutchison work on the mound. "What has he got?" I asked him. "Well, to tell you the truth, Hutchison has a lot of everything, including an old head on young shoulders," he replied. "His fast one is not so fast, and his curve is not so good, but he pitches with his brains and that counts a lot. But I don't think he is any $100,000 pitcher," canny Bob stated.

Budge, Wood, Quist, Grant and Hare Advance in U.S. Title Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y — Don Budge played careless tennis and still won as he pleased; Elwood Cooke probably lost all chance of the No. 5 position in the 1938 United States rankings, and Sidney Wood cleared another high hurdle in his impressive comeback yesterday in the United States singles tennis championships.

The 10,000 customers were still rewarded by all but Budge. The big red-head, playing listlessly, was taken to two dueced sets in eliminating young Bob Kamrath, from Austin, Texas, 6-3, 7-5, 9-7.

Cooke, No. 5 in the seeded list, was tumbled out of the tournament, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, 10-8, by wiry Harry Hopman, 32-year-old non-playing captain of the Australian Davis Cup team. Wood, seeded No. 4 played picture-book tennis in eliminating Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-4, 6-1, 4-6, 6-8 6-2.

HARE ADVANCES

With Budge, Hopman and Wood into the fourth round of men's play went Charles Edgar Hare, England's hard-hitting left hander; Don McNeill, United States indoor champion from Oklahoma City; Franjo Kukuljevic of Jugoslavia, Bitsy Grant of Atlanta and Adrian Quist of Australia. In the women's competition, seven more seeded players reached the third round, to leave 16 survivors in the field, all of them seeded.

Hare, who next plays Budge; McNeill, and Kukljevic all won in straight sets, while Grant and Quist were taken to four each by Owen Anderson of Hollywood and Mort Ballagh of Los Angeles, respectively. Quist, second-ranking foreigner, had to come up from 0-3 in the final set against his husky rival, who counted chiefly on a dynamite service.

There were no undue disturbances in the women's division, Alice Marble of Los Angeles and Jadwiga Jedrzejowska of Poland setting the pace by defeating Enuice Dean and Jane Stanton, 6-2, 6-0, and 6-1, 6-2 respectively.

Frank Moore Wins Seniors' Golf Cup

Scores Net 70 in Playoff for Buchanan Trophy at Uplands

The seniors of the Uplands Golf Club brought their championship to a close yesterday. The winners in the different classes played a round of 18 holes under full handicap to decide the winner of the Buchanan Cup and the championship. The winners in the classes were: A class, J. A. Cameron; B class, J. A. Mackinnon; C class, F. R. Moore, and D class, K. C. Harvey.

In the play-off Frank Moore came through to win by four strokes from K. C. Harvey and five from Cameron and MacKinnon.

The net scores follow: F. R. Moore 70, K. C. Harvey 74, J. A. Cameron 75 and J. A. MacKinnon 75.

The prizes were presented by F. C. Dillabough at the annual dinner held in the clubhouse.

BRONKS BEATEN

CALGARY — Converting a touchdown in the second quarter after a major Bronk score in the first had gone unconverted, Concordia College, of the Minnesota football conference, Saturday afternoon stopped Carl Cronin's grid machine 7 to 6 at Mewata Stadium in the Bronks first home game of the 1938 season.

BATTLING FOR THE LEAD—A section of the large Saturday crowd at Willows race track watch Mrs. M. J. (on the inside) and His Selection, fighting for the top, as they drive to the first turn in the six furlongs and 30 yards sprint. Mrs. M. J. got there first and then opened daylight on the field to win by three lengths. His Selection was second. Racing third in the picture is Spoof, which finished in that position, and on the outside of him Merced Queen, the odds-on favorite, which could do no better than fourth. Emil Sporri rode Mrs. M. J. to victory.

Take Junior Net Titles

Camerons Beaten

Drop Final Game of B.C. Softball Final to Vancouver Albertas 7 to 3; Harris Cyclists Champions

VANCOUVER — Victoria's Harris softball team held the British Columbia junior title today after a 12 to 8 victory over Vancouver Heather Cubs, Saturday night, but the senior title evaded Camerons of Victoria who traveled here only to lose, 7 to 3, to Vancouver Albertas.

Albertas took the lead away from the visiting Camerons in the sixth inning, and held the Victoria team scoreless while they went on to score three more runs.

Harrises were down, 5 to 0, to the Vancouver team in the fifth inning of the junior game, but came back strong in the sixth stanza with five runs to tie up the score. Then they brought in two more counters in the seventh. Cubs tied it up again in the seventh and went one ahead, but five Harris runs did the trick in the eighth.

CAMERONS OUTHIT

In their game with Camerons the Albertas punched out 15 hits as compared to four for the Victoria club. Rosy McLellan opened on the mound for Camerons but pulled himself in the seventh in favor of Tommy Johnston. Shorty White, who hurled for Albertas, was in rare form, and except for the third and fourth innings had Camerons helpless.

Sonny Ediss started the scoring in the second when he banged out a homer to give Albertas a 1 to 0 lead.

Camerons tied it up in the first half of the next inning, Harris getting on with a single, advancing on two errors and coming in on a hit by Lonnie Murray.

Slim Elliott slammed out the Vancouver team's second home-run of the night in the last half of the inning to put his squad in the lead again.

An error by Wilf Turkington put Art Emery on first in the fourth. A sacrifice by McLellan boosted Emery to second and he came home on Vic Dale's triple. A wild throw by Wilf Turkington scored Dale.

Turkington singled in the sixth as Albertas came to bat, then moved on when McLellan allowed Butch Gilmour to reach first on an error.

A single by Sonny Ediss filled the bases, but Camerons took two away on a double play, catching Turkington at the plate and Bobby Marsh, the batter, before he reached first.

Earl Middleton walked and Gilmour came in to tie the score on a wild pitch by McLellan. A single by White brought Ediss in and gave the Vancouver team the lead.

Albertas piled up three more runs in the seventh, Guido Cima, Sonny Ediss and Slim Elliott all crossing the plate.

"Buddy" Green Race Winner

Captures Main Event As Local Auto Speedsters Put on Meet

Local automobile racing pilots presented a fast-moving show at the Langford Speedway on Saturday night in a well-rounded-out program of events.

Buddy Green, driving car No. 25, owned by Jack Taylor, and Bert Sutton, driving No. 9 car, owned jointly by Sutton and Jack Smith, turned in performances that would stand up against the best.

Sutton drove a spectacular race in the 20-lap main event only to be forced to the pits while in the lead in the 12th lap when the brake linings on his car caught fire. Green, in second place, stepped in to hold the lead for the remaining laps.

Digger Caldwell, Jimmie Laird and Tarzan Carson, showed up well in the event — bunched closely together in a fight for second position in the final rounds of the race. Laird finally won out from Caldwell, to finish in that position. Caldwell was third and Carson crossed the line second. 6 minutes 27.2 seconds.

Green and Sutton starred again in the helmet dash with the former once more taking the prize money. It was a fight all the way, with Sutton a continuous threat throughout the five laps. Laird finished a good third. The time was 1.39.

GREEN DISQUALIFIED

In the first heat race Green was disqualified for crowding, Sutton was forced to roll into the pits after he had bounced off the guard rail in front of the stands, and the event went to Laird. Carson crossed the line third. The time was 3-6.4.

In the second heat race lady luck was against Sutton once more when his car slipped out of gear as he was leading in the third lap. Green again jumped into the lead to finish with a time of 3-46. Caldwell turned in a good performance to finish second, and Jerry Vantreight, Nanaimo, was third.

MUNSIE IN STOCK CAR WIN

Harris Munsie drove his Austin 7 to two victories in the stock car events. Munsie eased his midget to the fore in the starting laps of both events, to finish with good leads. Dave Botting, driving a built-up '27 Chev., was checked in second on both occasions, Fred Fawcett, driving a '33 De Soto, finished third in the first stock car event, and Jim Eberts, at the wheel of a supercharged Ford V-8, was third in the second race. Both events were packed with thrills and near crashes.

In a novelty "bug" race, Bob Southwell finished first and Don Vantreight placed second. The event was for seven laps.

The village blacksmith is being replaced by the repair man who can mend farm machinery, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines and harness.

George Lane Champ

Captures Senior Grand Aggregate Honors at Annual Fly-casting Meet at Gorge Beach

George M. Lane was named city senior grand aggregate winner at the Victoria fly and bait-casting championships held on Saturday afternoon at the Gorge swimming beach. Lane walked off with three firsts, one second and two thirds out of the seven senior competitions held.

Young Tomlin handled his rod like a master in both events, shooting the fly out 52 feet 8 inches in the longest cast of the distance event and making several perfect casts in the accuracy competition.

Near ideal conditions prevailed throughout the afternoon and a large gallery of interested spectators was on hand to witness the competition.

The longest cast in the open fly distance class was made by Dennis Hagar of 74 feet 4 inches. Hagar's total distance in three casts was 219 feet. Victor Marsh made the longest cast in the bait class, flinging his line out 180 feet.

Triplane Wins Longacres Mile

Allan Drumheller's Entry Captures $10,000 Race From Field of Nine

SEATTLE—The luck of the race was with Allan Drumheller of Walla Walla, Wash., yesterday as his three-year-old son of Whichone and Air Fleet, Triplane, thundered through the stretch to capture the fourth running of the $10,000 Added Longacres Mile.

A crowd of more than 8,000 cash customers, the biggest throng ever to watch a running of the classic mile of Pacific coast racing, witnessed as bitter a fight for the rich purse as was ever staged in the Valley of the White River.

Triplane won by one length from Joseph Cohen's Klister, with R. H. Thomson's Calaveras a neck back in third place.

Gleeman, the favorite, tried to threaten in the stretch but quit under pressure. Susie Q, another popular choice, quit after passing the three-quarter post.

Triplane paid $10.60, $5.10 and $3.40. Nine horses started.

FOX TAKES LEAD

TORONTO — The Dominion chess championship went into the final round today with Maurice Fox of Montreal leading the other 19 chess experts and threatening to lift the title held for two years by Montreal's Boris Blumin.

Fox needs today's victory but is looked upon by critics as an almost-certain winner over the low-ranking William Zombory of St. Catherines, Ont. Indications are that the fight for second position will be exceptionally keen.

LOSES HIS JOB—After being manager of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Baseball League for five years, Frankie Frisch, shown above, was yesterday handed his release. Rumor has it that Frisch may join either the New York Giants or Brooklyn Dodgers.

Fullerton Gets First Handicap

Be Mine Is Easy Winner at Willows Track

H. M. Fullerton's hard-working gelding Be Mine brought home another purse for the leading money-wining stable of the British Columbia thoroughbred racing season when the horses opened their final two weeks of galloping at the Willows track Saturday.

In front all the way Be Mine easily won the Washington Day Handicap at six furlongs and 30 yards. Jockey Emil Sperri drove him to the top in the dash for the first turn, and sat chilly for the rest of the journey. Bar Ace Stable's Love Sick got the place after vainly chasing the winner throughout and J. Isaci's Exilda was a fast-going third.

Thrill of the day was Adelaide N.'s win in the fifth over a mile and 70 yards. She started at 26 to one and returned $54.40 straight, leading from wire to wire. Persian Knight registered the only other upset for the punters, scoring at 17 to 1 in the first. At the other end of the scale Love Us returned only $2.65 straight in the fourth.

Mrs. M. J. Hartley's veteran gelding Somer's Choice galloped home first in the hurdle race, but had the misfortune to be disqualified for running off the course at one of the markers, and it was the popular Boy o' Mine that took the purse.

Riding honors were split three ways. Rex Young, Ralph Jackson and Sporri each came home with a pair of winners.

Cribbage Meeting

At a meeting of the Fernwood Cribbage Club on Saturday evening, the 1938-39 teams and schedule of play were drawn up which will get under way on September 25.

Any other club which would like to arrange match games is asked to get in touch with Stewart at 2650 Roseberry Avenue, telephone Empire 1640.

No Reasons Given For Dismissal

Mike Gonzales Takes Over Management of National Ball Club

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Frankie Frisch was released yesterday as manager of St. Louis Cardinals of the National Baseball League.

The announcement was made by president Sam Breadon just before the start of yesterday's game with the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates. Frisch's release was effective after the game.

Coach Mike Gonzales will run the team during the remainder of the season. The Fordham flash had been with the gas house gang since 1927. He became manager during the middle of the 1933 season.

In a formal statement, Breadon said:

"I believe a change in managers of the club is necessary for 1939. Frank has been with us longer than any other manager since Branch Rickey (Rickey is now general manager). I do not blame Frank for the position of the club this year. He has not done anything we can find fault with and he has been a good manager.

"He has been paid up for the remainder of the season, and is leaving the club today so he can be free to negotiate with other clubs seeking managers."

The action, not entirely unexpected, was at the same time sudden. Frisch was in uniform and worked as coach during yesterday's game.

WON WORLD SERIES

Frisch came to St. Louis from New York Giants in exchange for Rogers Hornsby, and while at the helm won one pennant and a world series, both in 1934. As a player he was recognied as one of the greatest of all second basemen.

Frisch declined to comment on the action of the club.

"I intend to stay in St. Louis for a couple of days and then go to my home in New York," he said. "I have nothing in prospect at this time in the way of a baseball offer."

At various times the last two seasons there has been gossip to the effect Frisch might become manager of New York Giants if Bill Terry moved into the front office. Terry is reported to be eager to give up active management and regards Frisch favorably for his successor.

If the Cardinals have determined on a new management they have not made the choice public. Mentioned as possibilities are Charley Grimm, released this year as manager of the Chicago Cubs; Burleigh Grimes, manager of Brooklyn Dodgers and one time a Cardinal pitcher; Jimmy Wilson, manager of the Phillies and at one time catcher for the Cards, and Burton Shotton, manager of the Columbus club of the American Association, a Cardinal farm.

"Hutch" Wins 25th

Seattle's Schoolboy Pitcher Whips Hollywood 7 to 2; Paul Dean Makes Fine Comeback in Majors

Seattle's second place Suds made it eight in a row over the helpless Hollywood Stars with a double win yesterday, also making it 25 victories in their last 28 starts.

A crowd of 18,000 was on deck for the double killing and watched the Sud's sensational juvenile pitcher Freddie Hutchinson register his 25th victory of the year with a 7 to 2 win in the opener.

Hutch drove in two runs, and limited the Stars to seven scattered hits. The Stars' Johnny Babich only allowed the Suds five hits in the second game, but three of them were good for as many runs in the fifth inning and assured Seattle a 3 to 1 win. Paul Gregory allowed six hits, but managed to bear down in the pinches.

The first place Los Angeles Angels managed to hang on to their lead by splitting a pair with the third place Sacramento Senators. The Angels smashed out 16 hits, including a homer by Eddie Mayo, and scored runs by the threes and fours to win the curtain raiser, 13 to 5. Two runs scored on three hits in the last inning of the second game gave the Senators a 5 to 4 win.

San Francisco took the two from the Oakland Acorns, 17 to 6 and 7 to 3, but got nowhere in its effort to displace San Diego as the fourth place team.

The Padres, with the aid of a homer by barreled shape Shanty Hogan, won the opener, 2 to 1 from the Portland Beavers and sewed up the second game with a five-hit three-run uprising in the seventh for a 5 to 4 win.

MAJOR LEAGUES

Paul Dean, younger member of the famous pitching combination, returned to major league baseball yesterday, and hurled the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6 to 4 victory over the top-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

"HUTCH" WINS 25TH

out of sixth place, the defeat reduced Pittsburgh's lead to 3½ games over Chicago Cubs, who broke a second-place deadlock with Cincinnati by beating the Reds 2 to 0 behind Bill Lee's four-hit flinging. New York Giants also were whitewashed, 3 to 0, getting only seven hits off Brooklyn's Luke Hamlin.

Hank Greenberg again eclipsed the pennant "race" in the American League as he belted his 48th and 49th home runs, while Detroit's Tigers took a double-header from Chicago, 10 to 1 and 5 to 3. These two clouts left him one behind the pace Babe Ruth set when he made his record total of 60 in 1927. Rudy York followed Hank's example by smacking his 33rd to win the second game.

These blows overshadowed New York Yankees' 6 to 3 defeat by Washington as young Joe Krakauskas finally combined control with his speed, which limited the champions to seven hits.

Boston's Red Sox hammered out 19 hits and a 12 to 7 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics and took second place, 15 games behind the Yankees. New York still needs seven games to clinch the pennant.

Cleveland skidded into third place by splitting a doubleheader with St. Louis, winning the opener 6 to 2 when Bob Feller pitched a five-hitter for his 15th win of the year, then losing 4 to 3 as Russ van Atta bested Mel Harder. The Phillies and Boston Bees divided yesterday's other twin bill, Philadelphia winning the first game 11 to 2 and Boston the second, 3 to 2.

MANERO WINS OPEN TOURNEY

Has Seven Under Par 281 to Capture Glens Falls Golf Event

GLENS FALLS, N.Y.—Tony Manero, United States open champion in 1936, won the Glens Falls open golf tournament for a second time yesterday with a 72-hole aggregate of 281, seven under regulation figures.

Five blows behind the pace-setting Sam Snead at the halfway mark, the Peabody, Mass., sharpshooter fired a four under par 68 to tie Snead at the end of 54 holes and then whacked out a closing 71 to clinch the $1,000 first money.

Manero's 281 was two strokes ahead of Gene Sarazen of Brookfield Centre, Conn., and hard-hitting Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N.Y., each of whom shot closing rounds of 71 and 70. They received $500 apiece.

Following the inspection the annual efficiency award was made, this being won by the patrol section, while the first chevron for good conduct and thrift was presented to Staff Sergeant E. H. McDonald.

The company then marched into the cathedral to attend the service conducted by Dean Elliott Spencer. Following the service a march past was held, with Sir Percy Lake and his staff taking the salute on the cathedral steps.

Court Action On Seized Pelts

Exchequer Court Hearing Case Under Sealing Treaty

The practice of deciding that seals are illegally killed when the pelts of the fur-bearing mammals contain lead pellets similar to buckshot, was questioned in Exchequer Court here.

The matter came up for review before Mr. Justice Angers, presiding over the court, in a claim by J. L. Thompson, merchant of Ucluelet, for the restoration of 46 skins seized under the Pelagic Sealing Treaty by customs officials here last year. The skins were en route to a buyer in Vancouver and were inspected and seized in the city. Inspectors found pellets in the blubber and, according to the evidence, discovered holes, presumably made by shot, in them.

Dugald Donaghy, K.C., was appointed by the Crown to represent the claimant, Mr. Thompson; A. D. Macfarlane, K.C. represented the Crown.

Evidence today, presented by Rochester Peter, Indian, carried the court through the exciting activity of a seal hunt, in which spears and harpoons were allegedly used far out from the coast of Ucluelet.

Peter, testifying for the claimant, stated he had taken six of the 46 seals in question. He described the method of capture, the way in which he and another Indian had paddled to the South Bank with special silent paddles in an Indian canoe! had approached the sleeping seals and thrown a spear with harpoon attachments into the mammal. A pike with a circular point had been used to fend off the seal when it came up to the canoe, fighting and biting, he said.

In reply to question, the Indian said fishermen in gasboats packed shotguns for the purpose of scaring off seals, dogfish, sharks and other marauding deepsea fish and animals which stole fish from lines and traps. He said it was quite possible for a seal to be struck by shot and to live, although wounded.

Mr. Thompson gave evidence of the seal-buying transaction, stating he had accepted the skins in good faith and had seen no presence of shot in them when he sent them through Victoria on the way to a buyer.

Joseph Dakers, customs man, testified to inspection of the pelts here. In each of the confiscated skins lead pellets had been found, along with other evidence indicating the seals had been shot, not taken by spear or harpoon as allowed by the authorities.

His testimony was supported by A. S. Huxtable, supervisor of customs examiners, who stated the seized skins had been turned over to fisheries authorities for keeping in cold storage.

In argument following submission of evidence, Mr. Donaghty submitted the seals might have been shot and wounded and taken legally, as Peter stated.

Mr. Macfarlane submitted all Peter's skins contained pellets and that Mr. Donaghy's submission was extremely doubtful. Mr. Macfarlane's contention that the onus of proof lay with the claimant was contested by Mr. Donaghy and judgment on the case was reserved.

Double Duplex New Type Home

Double Duplex or "Quadrex" to be Constructed On McClure and Rupert

A new type of construction, a "quadrex," a four-family dwelling similar to a double duplex, will make its appearance in Victoria shortly.

A permit for the structure, costing $8,000, was issued today by the city building inspector's department to the Bungalow Building Co-operative Ltd. It will be erected at 903 and 905 McClure Street and 725 and 727 Rupert Street by the Capital City Construction Company Ltd.

The building has a flat deck roof, is one story high, has separate entrances for each of the four suites and separate basement and garage for each.

The interests financing the building are planning further work of a similar nature in the near future, it was learned.

Organization Bill Urged in Ontario

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—P. M. Draper, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, today asked Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, to induce the provincial government to bring in a bill allowing workers to organize. The congress "would keep knocking at the door" until it got such legislation.

Mr. Draper spoke informally after Mr. Heenan had addressed the convention as a representative of Hon. Norman Hipel, Ontario's newly-appointed Labor Minister. Mr. Heenan said Ontario "can't wait" for federal unemployment insurance and hoped to be a member of the government which would introduce such a plan at the next Legislature session.

Primitive Man Linked With B.C.

Traces of Early Migration in Liard Area, Says Anthropologist

It may ultimately be determined that primitive man migrated from Asia to the Liard River territory of northern British Columbia.

This is the belief of Joseph Maloney, anthropologist from Stanford University and a member of the Wesley L. Bliss expedition to the Northwest Territories, who is in Victoria today.

"Any discovery that may be made in the future will in all probability be made in the Liard country or the Northwest Territories," said Mr. Maloney when seen at the Glenshiel Hotel this morning. "The Liard country holds interesting possibilities for further investigation. In that area we came across cave deposits of pleistocene material which will require further examination before anything can be definitely established."

The location of these caves will remain a secret until the expedition returns for further examination next year.

The Bliss party went into Canada's north country late last March via Edmonton and Fort St. John, traveling 5,000 miles by plane, canoe and steamer. They followed the Porcupine River into Alaska and eventually came out via Fairbanks and Valdez. The expedition was composed of Dr. Bliss, University of New Mexico archaeologist; Douglas Osborne of the University of New Mexico, Alden Hayes, also of the University of New Mexico; his brother Richard Hayes of Hillsdale College, Mich., and Thomas Cain of the University of Washington.

The expedition, said Mr. Maloney, expected to prove that a clear corridor for the migration of man from Asia existed throughout the ages from the Bering Straits across Alaska to the Yukon and northern British Columbia.

Dr. Bliss is now in Edmonton making plans for next year's expedition.

21 HURT AS HIGH-SPEED TRAINS CRASH—Sliding along wet tracks with all brakes set, the crack New York Central Commodore Vanderbilt train plowed into the rear end of the same railroad's streamlined Mercury near Toledo, O., demolishing the Mercury's observation platform, as shown above, and seriously injuring 21 persons. Only the fact that the Commodore Vanderbilt's engineer saw a block signal and applied brakes prevented a tragedy. The Mercury, on its Detroit-Cleveland run, had grazed an auto and stopped when its New York-bound sister train skidded into it.

Salvation Army Prays for Peace

LONDON (AP) — While 72-year-old General Evangeline Booth shouted semi-military commands, 500 of her Salvation Army followers today alternately prayed and sang for peace in 300-year-old Sion College on the Victoria Embankment.

The meeting was one of similar Salvation Army services held throughout the world.

LAUGHING COWBOY AND HIS MULE—Elmer Holcomb and his laugh-provoking mule, "Mae West," have created an uproar wherever they have performed. There is a laugh wallop in every kick of "Mae West," and Elmer Holcomb knows how to take them—that is, the laughs, not the kicks. The mule is so temperamental that the fun is new on every occasion. Holcomb has won commendation for the wholesome fun that he provides with his trick mule. He performs with the 16 roughriders from the Diamond W Ranch, of Ellensburg, who will be seen at the Horse Show every night at the Willows Fair, starting at 8.15. There also will be thrilling four and six-horse team contests, and saddle horse riding and jumping contests. A band will be in attendance.

Dominion Will Show "Army Girl"

"Army Girl," the Republic Picture showing at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow can readily be catologued as one of the year's really great pictures. It has everything — a fine story, excellent cast, and direction of the most skillful type.

Julie Armstrong (Madge Evans), the daughter of Col. Armstrong (H. B. Warner), commander of the 31st Regiment, United States Cavalry, is tired of the routine of an "army" girl. She wants to enjoy life.

The post is visited by Capt. Dike Conger (Preston Foster), who is conducting experiments of mechanizing various posts with tank corps, doing away with cavalry units. He is not exactly welcome, but Julie finds him attractive, if for no other reason than his reputation as a man who "loves and leaves" his women.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Three favorite stars, George Raft, Henry Fonda and Dorothy Lamour, together with a comparative newcomer to the screen, Louise Platt, play the two leading couples in Paramounts' panoramic drama of life in the fabulous north country, "Spawn of the North," which is now being shown at the Capitol Theatre. Raft and Fonda will be seen as two lifelong friends who become enemies when frontier warfare is declared between fishermen and salmon-pirates. The cast also includes Tamiroff and John Barrymore.

The campaign being conducted by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Friends of the Chinese People, is now well under way.

Victorians who feel that help should be given those who have suffered in the fighting in China are appealed to by the organization to read the "Appeal to the Conscience of the World" now being widely distributed, and send whatever they are able, no matter how small, to Mrs. Colin Rutherford, 1227 Beach Drive, Oak Bay.

The Victoria branch of the Defence of Canada League will hold its regular meeting in the A.O.F. Hall, Cormorant Street, this evening at 8.

Labor Asks New Measures

Many Resolutions at Annual Meeting of Trades Congress of Canada

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was called on today in the report of the executive council to decide on policy to be pursued respecting the dispute between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Major portion of the congress membership consists of international unions affiliated with the A.F. of L. There are also five unions of international ramifications which joined the C.I.O. and had their charters revoked by the A.F. of L.

The report said the decision to be faced by the convention was "not one of maintaining unity." Rather, it was to decide whether a policy would be adopted which would cause wholesale withdrawal of the international unions or one which, while maintaining these in affiliation, will necessitate dissociation of those organizations constituting the C.I.O.

PADLOCK LAW

The report also asked for repeal of Quebec's padlock law and reiterated labor's immigration policy—that present restrictions be maintained and no plan for government-assisted immigration should be made until the existing employment and agricultural depression has been overcome.

Circulation of a questionnaire to all members of Parliament "on questions of national concern to the people of our Dominion" was suggested to the congress in one of the 265 resolutions made public today for the week-long convention.

Five resolutions oppose railway unification and others urge defence of national unity in declaring unity being "threatened by the alliance of the premiers of Quebec and Ontario." Several resolutions ask a national system of unemployment insurance.

MENTIONS B.C.

Toronto Local 253 of the United Garment Workers of America has a resolution calling for the congress to endorse independent labor political action. It said "the Hepburn government in Ontario, the Duplessis government in Quebec and the Pattullo government in British Columbia are showing tendencies to legislate contrary to the best interests of the international trade union movement and consequently against the interests and welfare of this country as a national entity."

Three foreign policy resolutions came from Calgary Trades and Labor Council. One asks no declaration of war until a referendum has been taken, another proposes nationalization of armaments in Canada and the third asks manufacture, control and distribution of military aircraft in Canada be nationalized.

The Fort William Trades and Labor Council proposed a boycott "against all goods from aggressor countries, such as Japan, Germany and Italy." Another resolution demands banning Japanese immigration.

Cat Photographed at 10 Downing Street

LONDON (CP) — For the second successive day, Toby, the Treasury's black cat, strolled up Downing Street today and sat down on the steps of No. 10, the Prime Minister's residence.

Fourteen photographers snapped him and then a doorkeeper persuaded the animal to go inside.

Yesterday the cat washed himself on the steps of No. 10.

Skeleton Found at North Vancouver

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Discovery of the skeleton of a man, believed to be that of Bruce Edwards, who disappeared a year ago, was made by two Vancouver hunters, Keith Farley and Norman Clark, here on Satuurday afternoon.

The skeleton, found near the Seymour pipe line road, was that of a young man, and appeared to have been there about a year. The clothing was scattered about, apparently by wild animals. In a pocket book was a rent receipt dated March, 1937, and made out by Mrs. E. Sheen to "Edwards."

Detectives Frank White and Fred Fish of the Vancouver police missing persons bureau notified British Columbia police.

Bruce Edwards, 16, left his home at Sechelt, B.C., a year ago and has not been heard from since.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—A good export business in Canadian wheat, estimated at 750,000 bushels, gave Winnipeg wheat futures a firm undertone late today. Losses of more than a cent were almost eliminated with final quotations ⅝ to ¼ cent lower. October 61⅝, November 61⅞, December 61½ and May 65⅛.

Trading was mostly in flurries, with offerings outweighing support in the first half of the session and export buying becoming top-heavy near the close.

Traders for the most part awaited the important Nuremberg speech by Chancellor Hitler on the Sudeten German problem.

A minor factor said to have generated some speculative buying was reports of unwanted rains in western Canada during the week-end.

Country marketings Saturday were sharply lower at 2,325,000 bushels. A year ago marketings were 1,847,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed ⅛d higher to 1d lower. Buenos Aires advanced ½ to ¾ cent at noon.

Coarse grain futures generally followed wheat in routine dealings.

CHICAGO (AP)—Despite uneasiness over the European political crisis, Chicago wheat values had a downward slant today from start to finish.

An increase of 3,983,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply total was noted.

At the close Chicago wheat futures were ¼ to ½ lower compared with Saturday's finish, September 61¾, December 62¾ to 62⅞; corn ⅛ to ⅝ down, September 51⅝ to 51¾, December 49½ to 49¾, and oats unchanged to ⅛ off.

"Pause" at Sign Is Not Enough

Slowing a car down to a crawl, changing into second gear, looking carefully both ways to see that no traffic is coming, and then picking up speed again does not constitute stopping at a stop sign, Magistrate Henry Hall stressed in City Police Court this morning in imposing a fine of $5 on a motorist who thought it was enough to "pause" because he saw no traffic on Fort Street when he came to the sign at the end of Linden Avenue.

The wheels of the car must definitely stop turning, regardless of the clearness of the street being entered or crossed, the magistrate said.

James Roosevelt Recovering Well

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—President Roosevelt was cheered today by the apparent success of a serious stomach operation on his eldest son, James.

Mr. Roosevelt was in St. Mary's Hospital here yesterday while James had a large gastric ulcer removed in an operation which required an hour and 45 minutes.

Stephen Early, the President's press secretary, said physicians reported James' condition "entirely satisfactory."

Draper Scores Padlock Law

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—P. M. Draper, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, today told the delegates at the convention here that Quebec's padlock law, designed to combat Communism, "violates the fundamental principles of the Canadian constitution."

This was because it amounted to "execution with judgment, punishment without trial and dispossession of property without due process of law."

Bonds

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market reflected moderate pressure in some groups today.

Some long-term U.S. Treasuries were down nearly ½. Two German government issues were ¼ to ⅜ lower. Czechoslovak government issues had not appeared on the tape during the first hour and a half.

Quebec Labor Unions in Session

THETFORD MINES, Que. (CP)—Second-day sessions of the National Federation of Catholic Workers' 17th annual congress opened today behind closed doors as delegates heard treasury reports and considered financial matters.

The 400 delegates considered the report of President Alfred Charpentier, who urged application of the Turgeon royal commission recommendations for settlement of textile problems. That report he added, insisted on the necessity of making company laws uniform in order to better the lot of workers and indicated there must be co-operation between federal and provincial authorities if the matter was to be cleared up.

The president's congratulations were extended to the Quebec government for application of the padlock law "aimed at discouraging Communism."

1 to 3-point Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Ending one of the most crucial days in European history since the Wolrd War, the stock market today had shown ability to take the crisis in stride and prices, after early irregularity, showed a number of gains running to one to three points.

Steels and motors began the late morning improvement which carried through the day and was around the day's best levels at the close.

The session was conspicuous for the timid pace of dealings, as traders awaited the fateful speech of Chancellor Adolf Hitler. However, coming as it did nearly at the finish of business, the news was too late to materially affect prices. Transfers approximated 600,000 shares.

From the start the American market took its pattern from markets in London, Paris, Amsterdam and Berlin, where trading was restricted and the price movement indecisive, with some buoyancy at the end.

Calgary Oils

CALGARY—In a dull session only 5,100 shares of oil stocks traded on the Calgary Stock Exchange today.

Lethbridge and Sunset registered fractional gains but the general trend was downward. Mercury was down ½ at 6, Highwood a point at 8½, and Freehold and Commoil showed minor losses. Okalta, Foundation and Dalhousie held unchanged.

LOSSES WIPED OUT

MONTREAL (CP)—Steadiness succeeded an early softness on Montreal exchange today and at the close most early losses had been wiped out, though metals and equipments remained spotty.

Smelters dipped ½ and Hollinger lost ⅝, but International Nickel firmed a point and Noranda almost as much. National Steel Car finished down about a point and Canadian Car a fraction. Canadian Pacific was about unchanged.

Gatineau Power preferred showed late strength at 85, up 1½, while the common eased a small fraction. Brazilian was a little higher. Shawinigan yielded a little to profit-taking.

Price Brothers added ¼ and St. Lawrence Corporation preferred skidded ½. Constructions remained unchanged except for a drop of ½ for Dominion Bridge.

FIRMNESS AT CLOSE

TORONTO (CP) — Today's stock market opened weak under the nervous strain resulting from European political tension but continued to firm after the first hour. Turnover was around 560,000 shares.

International Nickel and Noranda were out in front with gains of about a point or more each, presumably because of their war-profit possibilities. Waite-Amulet and some of the cheaper base metals closed higher and Sherritt and Sudbury Basin eased down a few. Eldorado, Mining Corporation and Castle recovered from the early setback. Senior Golds closed with narrow net gains.

National Steel Car and Hamilton Bridge pfd. weakened 1 to 2. The Canadian Car Issues, Canada Wire A, Steel of Canada and United Steel declined fractions.

Senior oils maintained a firm front and the papers erased their early setback. Western oils showed little net change. Okalta, Brown and Highwood were off 1 to 2 cents and Firestone and Calgary-Edmonton were up similar margins.

Stories of Switzerland

I—WILLIAM TELL

William Tell is a national hero of Switzerland. It may be that the legends about him are not true, but they have been told for hundreds of years.

It is said that William Tell lived more than 600 years ago, when Austria was trying to make her power firm over the Swiss. Officers of the law, often called "bailiffs," were sent to Switzerland to collect taxes and to govern the people in other ways.

Gessler himself caught up to Tell.

One of the bailiffs was named Gessler, and he was a cruel man. On a November day in 1307 the people in the town of Altdorf were told they must "salute the ducal hat."

William Tell would not salute the hat, so he was brought before Gessler to be punished. Gessler learned that Tell was supposed to be skillful with his crossbow, so he said:

"You must shoot an arrow at an apple on your son's head, and knock the apple off!"

Tell agreed, and fired the shot, striking the apple, not his son. A shout of joy arose from the people who watched the event.

Despite his success, Tell was placed on a small boat to be taken to a prison across a lake. On the way a storm arose, and Tell was allowed to handle the Tiller because he knew the lake so well. He steered the boat ashore, to a place where he could leap to a rocky ledge, while the rest on board needed time to make the landing.

The hunt for Tell was taken up as quickly as could be, but the men searching went in different directions. Gessler himself caught up to Tell, but the hero shot him with his crossbow.

That is the way the legend is told sometimes, but there have been changes in it since it was first sung in a ballad. We are told that soon afterward the Swiss rose in revolt to drive the Austrians from their land.

It may be that the William Tell legend has little more truth in it than the story of George Washington and the Cherry Tree. At any rate, it points back to times when the Swiss really did struggle to keep their country free from foreign rule.

Switzerland today is a free country, a place where the people seem happy to be alive. Citizens of German, French and Italian descent live together, and are friends. It may be that all the nations of Europe could unite in much the same way, and learn to live together peacefully and happily.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have a neighbor in her early twenties whose husband has a good steady job. They have only one child, a bright little girl of five, whom they send to her grandparents for six or eight months of each year so that they may not be bothered with her and may be free to do as they please. The grandparents are old people who live in another state and are very poor. The grandfather works hard, making each month less than the young husband makes in a week, but the parents not only do not pay any board for the child, but the grandparents have to supply it with clothes, shoes, etc., out of their scanty income. The grandparents have told the parents that they are not able to care for the child in any way, but they continue to dump her on them just the same. Don't you think that this child will grow up without any affection for her parents? I may be obsolete in my ideas, but I wouldn't give up the daily association with my youngster for anything in the world. What will be the result of the parents' neglect of this child, and how will it reflect in after years? A MOTHER.

Answer: Evidently your neighbors have no natural parental feeling for their child and so she is probably better off with her grandparents than she would be with her cold-hearted and selfish mother and father.

It is a mystery why these misguided parents do not realize that in sending their child away from them for more than half the time they are alienating her affections from them. Children's love is founded on habit and dependence, and if these are denied them by parents who push them out of their home and their lives in order to be free, then the children inevitably grow up not only with no affection for their fathers and mothers, but a resentment for the wrong they have done them.

For parents to think that their children will love them because it is their duty to is nonsense. There is no obligation in love. Children pay back to their parents only the affection they receive, and in later days when these parents expect their daughters to be tender and devoted to them and they find them cold and hard they will have only themselves to blame.

Wage Question To Be Studied

Will Be Considered After U. S. Dispute Settled, Says Beatty

EDMONTON (CP)—Canadian railways will have to consider the question of employees' wages after the present wage dispute in the United States is settled, Sir Edward Beatty, president and chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said in an interview here.

Sir Edward in Edmonton on an inspection of western lines, was asked if a cut in employees' wages was likely in Canada in view of the announced decrease for American rail employees.

"The wage negotiations in the United States are taking the course prescribed by the law of that country and when a final solution is reached, the Canadian railways will have to give consideration to their position," he replied. "It will be recalled that the present wage scales are higher and revenues lower than when the voluntary cut, recently restored, was put into effect."

Sir Edward said survey of an extension of the Northern Alberta Railway line north of Grimshaw in the Peace River district for about 85 miles through a rich agricultural area might be undertaken next year. Grimshaw is about 250 miles northwest of Edmonton.

The rail president declared he knew of nothing since the depression began which equals the expected large western grain crop in importance as a stimulus to general recovery throughout the country.

Mr. Beatty was asked for his opinion of the claim advanced by delegates to the British Commonwealth Relations Conference at Sydney, Australia, that the Ottawa trade agreements should be modified to provide the Dominions with wider markets for absorption of primary products.

"It is, of course, important that the widest possible distribution of primary products of the Dominion should be secured as part of our trade agreements within the Empire," Sir Edward replied. "Each Dominion is, however, confronted with problems of its own and Great Britain with the necessity of extending its markets throughout the world. All these factors must be taken into consideration in any general trade agreements effected, but, like other Canadians, I would dislike to see any barriers erected against the export of our primary products."

Groom Mercury For Distance Hop

Pickaback Plane May Fly From Firth of Forth to Capetown

LONDON (CP-Cable)—The flying boat Mercury, which, it is reported, is being groomed for a hop to Capetown, now is rumored as preparing to attack the world distance record held by Soviet Russia.

It is suggeested the famous upper half of the pickaback plane, which this summer flew to Montreal and New York, may be sent to Scotland for a takeoff that would increase the airline distance record beyond the 6,306 miles Russian fliers covered when they established the record in a flight to the United States' Pacific coast.

International regulations specify new record seekers must add 62 miles to the existing figure to claim the title. Southampton to Capetown is only 5,960 air miles and the Mercury is expected to start from north of the Firth of Forth.

While secrecy was maintained over the Mercury plans, it was announced during the week-end that examination of the Albatross No. 1, which cracked up August 27, disclosed a fault which caused her to break her back while landing. The fault has been correceted in Albatross No. 2, which has been tested successfully.

The second Albatross is expected to start soon a series of long distance tests, preparatory to a trans-Atlanitc hop with which Imperial Airways will resume its interrupted North Atlantic research program.

Imperial Airways proudly pointed to the "Heracles," veteran air liner which established a world mileage record on its "birthday," having flown a total of 1,250,000 miles, equal to 50 times around the equator, and has carried 95,000 passengers without making an emergency landing or injuring any passenger.

Master of Ss. Stancroft, at Montreal, Keeps Fingers Crossed

MONTREAL (CP)—Red-headed Capt. S. L. Spence says, "They haven't got me yet," but he keeps his fingers crossed when he says it.

Capt. Spence and the tramp freighter Stancroft do business with Loyalist Spain. They used to run cargoes in for the insurgents but now they dodge insurgent bombs and insurgent gunfire in Spanish waters.

"She's only a wee coaster, and really has no business trading to Spain," the skipper said last night as his ship loaded zinc for the war-torn country. "But so far she has served me well, and as long as I keep quiet and my luck holds out, I guess she'll keep on serving me."

"Some bombs have come pretty close to us," Capt. Spence recalled. "And those machine guns have come pretty close, too. But they've never hit us. I've had no casualties so far."

Clipper Lifts Record Weight

Boeing Flying Boat Raises Gross Weight of 82,500 Pounds

SEATTLE (AP)—The gigantic Boeing clipper broke her own 54-hour-old record for gross weight carried aloft yesterday when the great flying boat lifted into the air with a gross weight of 82,500 pounds.

Pilot Eddie Allen said the short takeoff run required was "phenomenal" in view of the weight, the lack of wind and the glassy surface of the lake. (Head winds provide lift for a shorter takeoff and choppy water breaks the surface tension and makes for easier takeoffs.)

The load carried, which included the weight of the ship, crew and ballast, breaks the American record of 79,000 pounds for all planes and the world record for planes designed for passenger carrying. The Dornier Do-X and the Russian plane Maxim Gorky carried heavier loads, but the Gorky cracked up and the Do-X was discarded as impractical.

Pilot Allen criused the big ship between Everett and Tacoma, a distance of 60 miles, for approximately three hours.

During the tests the flying boat swooped over Lake Washington and thrilled crowds in dumping 1,500 gallons of water to test action of her gasoline dump valves.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from McFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores—or any druggist—a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to which is as pleasant to use may be had which is os pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.
